FBI ANNOUNCEMENT Monday afternoon in St. Louis at which Agent Glenn Young, special agent in charge of the St. Louis office, said that the bunker in which Dr. and Mrs. Zevallos had been held for a week has been located and searched for evidence.

Dr. Hector Zevallos and his wife, Rosalie Jean, were held captive for a week in an abandoned World War II ammunition storage shed between Decatur and Springfield, Ill., it was announced Monday afternoon in St. Louis.

At the joint conferences, the FBI provided the first official information since the two were released near their home in Edwardsville on Aug. 20. Special Agent Glenn Young said in St. Louis that the FBI has known since Aug. 21 where the Zevalloses were held.

FBI technicians in Washington, D.C., were sent evidence after it was retrieved from the above-ground bunker, Young said. He would not specify the exact bunker location because it is on private property, but news reports indicate the bunker is near Illinois, 20 miles east of Springfield in Sangamon County. The FBI in Springfield refused to confirm the exact site.

Two cars also were used in the abduction, the FBI announced. One was described as a four-door, dark blue, medium-sized sedan with Missouri license plates. The other was described only as a compact auto.

Special Agent Joseph Ondrula was quoted as saying in the Springfield news conference that the FBI will continue its search under the Hobbs Act, because the abductors threatened to kill the Zevalloses if the Hope Clinic continued to operate, but Ondrula denied making that statement.

"I don't recall specifically saying that," Ondrula told the Press-Record when reached at his Springfield office Tuesday.

"Based on threats made to Zevallos during their captivity," the FBI will continue on the case under the Hobbs Act which concerns threats made in plots to affect interstate commerce, he said. Ondrula refused to discuss the nature of the threats.

The Zevalloses were not taken across state lines and, therefore, the kidnapping investigation will be conducted by the Madison County Sheriff's Department, which has complained that the FBI has not fully cooperated in the case.

Composite drawings of three men, who Young said were described by the Zevalloses, were released by the FBI Tuesday. The abductors claimed to be members of "The Army of God," a radical anti-abortion group that claimed responsibility for the kidnapping and for firebombings of abortion clinics in Florida and Virginia last spring.

The FBI has not had contact with "The Army of God" since the couple was released and Young said he had never heard of the group, except in connection with the kidnapping and the fire-bombings.

The three abductors identified themselves only as members of the group and not by name, although one man was called "Butch."

Young said the FBI does not know where the men are from. It has been Redistricting slow in Madison

By NANCY WEIL
of the Press-Record

The Madison Aldermanic Redistricting Committee Tuesday agreed to meet during an upcoming Saturday morning to formulate redistricting plans for the city. The committee also set a Feb. 1, 1983, deadline to report the new boundaries to the Madison County clerk's office.

City Commissioner Al Hudzik said after the redistricting meeting that he anticipates setting a date for the next session within three or four weeks, but noted, "It could be later than that, or it could be sooner."

Hudzik said he has to determine how many eligible voters reside on each block before a meeting date can be determined.

At the last meeting, the term "eligible voters" was questioned by Fifth Ward Alderman Donald Garrett, who was concerned that determining new wards by the size of voter registration lists would eliminate minority representation on the council. Two black aldermen — Garrett and Charles Rockett — represent the predominantly black Fifth Ward.

Tuesday night, Caspar Nighohossian, city attorney, defined eligible voters according to federal law. Eligible voters must be 18 years of age or older, reside in the precinct for at least 30 days and be registered to vote, he said. For Madison redistricting, the requirement concerns those eligible in the last municipal election, he added.

"So far as I'm concerned, this is a state problem and a state law. It should be handled according to the state," Nighohossian said. State redistricting statutes require that the new wards be nearly equal in population and as compact and contiguous in territory as possible, he added.

In order to comply with the law, Madison must eliminate at least one of its five wards within 30 days of the April 1983 municipal election. "One ward has got to go. It will be absorbed by the others. At least one must go," Nighohossian said.

It is not necessary to maintain any of the present ward boundaries under the redistricting plan. "We're not required to keep any of the old lines. You can have four brand new wards, but it is nice to keep a couple, because they have voting patterns," Nighohossian said.

The issue came about after the 1980 census. State law requires cities with populations of 3,000 to 15,000 to have eight aldermen. Madison has 10 aldermen.

The redistricting issue also was brought up after the 1970 census because the city apparently was in violation of state law at that time, but the council never acted.

Redistricting Committee Chairman Don Reeves Tuesday night stressed the time factor involved in redistricting. He suggested the Feb. 1 deadline to report boundary changes to the county, so that the Madison City Council can vote on the proposal in early March. Committee members were requested to formulate their own proposals for discussion at the next meeting. A compromise solution will then be considered after the plans are studied. "It is important that you make up some preliminary ideas about what you want," Nighohossian told committee members.

The redistricting, he said, will be as close to equal as possible, according to eligible voters in each ward. Registered voters as of the last municipal election in April 1980, according to wards were: First Ward, 490; Second Ward, 770; Third Ward, 780; Fourth Ward, 590; Fifth Ward, 325, and total, 2955.

Holiday includes parade

Monday is Labor Day, a holiday for most Quad-City area residents and most businesses and offices will be closed. The day will be highlighted by the annual Labor Day Parade, hosted by the Tri-City Trades and Labor Council.

The parade will begin in the 1900 block of Edison Avenue in downtown Granite City promptly at 10 a.m. Monday. Units are asked to begin forming at 8:30 a.m. At least 35 units are expected to participate in the march.

From Edison Avenue, the parade will proceed on Niedringhaus Avenue to Madison Avenue and then northeast on Madison Avenue to Granite City High School South, where it will disband. Marchers and the public then will be invited to the refreshment stand in the parking lot of Bellemore Village Shopping Center. A feature there will be the annual tug-of-war between various labor organizations.

"The Carpenters are the defending champions and several organizations have put together good teams and are working hard to try and unseat them this year. It should be heavy competition," Bob Means, a co-chairman of the parade and holiday observance, noted.

Ed Reiske, the other co-chairman, said of the parade, "This year's march has all the prospects of a bigger and better parade than last year, which was a huge success."

The parade committee met last night to complete final arrangements.

Jaclyn Greer, the current Junior Miss of Granite City, will serve as Labor Day queen and will be in the parade. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Greer, Rural Route One, Granite City, and is a member of Steelworkers Local 30.

Trophies will be awarded to the float with the best theme, the best marching unit and for the best percentage participation by a labor organization. The two Granite City high school bands have been invited to march and play and several other local bands are expected to join the parade.

Groups still may join the parade. Those interested are being urged to contact Reiske or Means at 452-1130 or 877-4330.

Resume Nameoki fire calls

By NANCY WEIL
of the Press-Record

The Madison Fire Department is again answering fire calls to the unincorporated Nameoki Township area of Cloverleaf Subdivision and East Madison for a 30-day trial period, which started yesterday.

The Madison City Council unanimously approved a motion at its Tuesday meeting to resume fire protection for those areas east and southeast of the city. Madison officials met that morning with members of the newly-formed Cloverleaf Fire District. Negotiations between Madison and fire district officials about continuance of fire protection have started, it was reported at the council meeting.

Madison terminated fire protection for Cloverleaf and East Madison Jan. 31 because some residents owed money for fire calls and Madison taxpayers were being forced to assume the burden of paying those bills. Madison Fire Chief Mike Macek estimated after the meeting that $19,000 to $20,000 is owed by East Madison and Cloverleaf residents from the past two years.

Part of the trial agreement calls for East Madison and Cloverleaf to seek federal revenue sharing aid from Nameoki Township for the purchase of

GC ambulances now rejecting calls from outside of city limits

By GEORGEANN MCGEE
of the Press-Record

Granite City ambulances now serve city residents only, after nearby townships and municipalities — by choice — failed to meet a deadline for signing a revised ambulance service contract.

Assistance Fire Chief George Smolich said the service stopped at midnight yesterday.

Granite City has been the prime ambulance service provider for the area since 1977. Rising rates, however, and the appearance of a competitive ambulance service have apparently ended a request for runs beyond the city limits.

Campbell Ambulance Service, Inc., started operating yesterday from a headquarters on Lakeview Drive in Pontoon Beach, which is the only neighboring community to have an official contract with the company. Roger Campbell, president, however, says he is offering his ambulance service to any area callers, including Granite City residents. The service can be reached by calling 878-4411.

Smolich said some residents in the runoff areas, including Vette, Madison, Pontoon Beach and Nameoki, Chouteau and Venice townships, may not realize they no longer qualify for Granite City ambulance service. "Many people are going to be calling," he predicted. "And, we are going to say we are sorry."

He believes public awareness of the change could take several months, presenting "difficult situations" for the ambulance personnel and residents. The city ambulance service will continue to maintain its present levels of manpower equipment, utilizing the city's four on-call ambulances. Any changes will have to come through the city council, Smolich said. Campbell plans to keep two ambulances available at the Pontoon Beach location.

Pontoon Beach and the other communities had shown a reluctance for months towards paying higher rates under Granite City's amended ordinance, which went into effect May 1. Granite City rates increased in-town individual rates to $100 and out-of-city rates to $125 per call, plus $2 per mile. Campbell is offering his service for $70

Taboo words take over

Ours is an age that prides itself on straight-forwardness, even, or maybe I should say especially, in language. The distinction between what is appropriate in public speech and private speech has nearly vanished. Students now routinely use words in their papers that I would never have dreamed of using except in the very privatest of personal letters. Taboo words have always been of three types: (1) sexual, (2) scatological, having to do with non-sexual bodily functions, and (3) blasphemous. The first two categories are great favorites these days, presumably because they manifest a rebellion against the prudishness of the Victorian era. There is little point in being scandalized by this plethora of obscenity. In fact, after a while, it is next to impossible to be scandalized. Through overuse, the words lose all their pazzazz. They become stale and meaningless. Perhaps we need a college-level course in "Creative Cursing." For openers, we could have everyone study Kent's marvelous put-down of Oswald in Shakespeare's "King Lear":

"A knave, a rascal, an eater of broken meats; a base, proud, shallow, beggarly, three-suited, hundred pound, filthy worsted-stocking knave; a filthy-livered, action-taking, whorson, glass-gazing, super-serviceable, finical rogue; one-trunk-inheriting slave; one that would be a bawd in way of good service, and art nothing but the composition of a knave, beggar, coward, pander, and the son and heir of a mongrel bitch; one whom I will beat into clamorous whining if thou deny'st the least syllable of this addition."

BAC registration ends Sept. 24

Those needing a class to round out fall schedules or for those who missed registering for a class, there's still time to register for a Belleville Area College television course.

Registration for the courses ends Friday, Sept. 24. However, earlier enrollment is advised as students are responsible for making up any work they have missed.

Classes begin the week of Sept. 13. For information, those interested should call Ruth Hattner, 1-235-2700, extension 200. General Psychology, Introduction to Data Processing and The Home Gardener will be offered this fall. More than televised lectures, the classes include on-campus testing and tours, use of student study guides and textbooks, and phone, personal and mail contact with BAC experts in each field.

Courses are aired during early morning hours and videotapes are available on campus and several libraries in the BAC district to make viewing convenient for those who work full time. Gardening will not be aired over television, but videotapes will be shown at times and locations to be arranged.

Tuition is $19 per credit hour on $57 for each of the three-hour courses.

General Psychology includes facts and scientific principles of the psychological activity in human behavior. Students will view 24 half-hour programs entitled "Understanding Human Behavior."

The course will be aired at 6:15 a.m. Wednesdays and Fridays, Sept. 15 to Dec. 3 on KETC-TV, Channel 9. Repeat times will be 7:30 and 8 a.m. Saturdays beginning Sept. 18. The instructor is Bobby J. Poe.

Processing is a survey of the computer in informational systems. It covers the need for data processing and the impact of computers on business management.

Students will view 14 half-hour programs entitled "Making It Count." The instructors are Don Disher and John Cummins.

The show will be aired at 6:15 a.m. Tuesdays and Thursdays Sept. 14 to Dec. 7, on KETC-TV, Channel 9. The repeat time will be 12:30 p.m. Wednesdays beginning Sept. 15.

The Home Gardener will teach basic gardening skills from soil preparation to landscaping design, from vegetable cropping to hanging baskets. The instructor is Charles Giedeman.

REPORT BURGLARIES OF MADISON HOMES

Burglars entered the home of Mrs. Harriet King, 1545 Collinsville Ave., Madison, and stole a stereo with four speakers, a jewelry box and contents and two table clocks, it was reported last week.

Intruders removed a window to enter and ransack the home of Cathy Cullen, 905 Alton St., Madison, where the telephone lines also were cut, it was reported during the weekend. An inventory was being taken to determine what items were missing.

Two watches and a ruby ring were among the items stolen in a burglary at the home of Steven Rozycki, 1701 Elizabeth St., Madison, reported last week. Access to the dwelling was gained by pushing in a screened window.

Search for war criminals is continuing

Nearly four decades after the Holocaust — where 11 million to 14 million Jews, Poles, Czechs, Dutch, Russians, French, Yugoslavs and others lost their lives — the search continues for those responsible for the systematic murder of innocent people.

"The Hunter and the Hunted" reports the results of the continuing worldwide search for Nazi war criminals. The hour-long special recently won the Emmy award for outstanding investigative reporting in the news and documentary competition. Narrated by Jose Ferrer, it will air on Wednesday, Sept. 8, at 8 p.m. on television Channel 9. The original broadcast was in October 1981.

Interviewed in the documentary are Simon Wiesenthal, the world's foremost hunter of Nazi criminals; Beate Klarsfeld, a German non-Jew who has dedicated her life to bringing these criminals to justice; and former SS officers Walter Rauff, murderer of 250,000 people, and Klaus Barbie, alias Klaus Altmann, "the Butcher of Lyon."

Both Rauff and Barbie head the most wanted list, along with Dr. Josef Mengele, "the angel of death."

Highlights of the program include archival film footage of Adolf Eichmann's trial in Israel and film smuggled out of Germany showing mobile slaughterhouses in operation.

The program also features the first-ever recorded interview with Horst Eichmann's son, Adolf, in which he candidly discusses his father's abduction, deportation and trial in Israel. The documentary, produced by Phonic Films of Australia, was filmed in South America, Austria, West Germany, Israel and France.

Pleads guilty on two charges

Kevin M. Dodson, 21, of the 2600 block of Madison Ave., pleaded guilty at 3:20 p.m. Monday to charges of petit theft and criminal trespass to land.

He was arrested during the weekend near Granite City police headquarters after allegedly entering a relative's home and taking about $20 in pennies.

INCIDENT LEADS TO TWO CHARGES

Jefferson D. Stinson Jr., 21, of 2929 Saratoga Ave., was charged with battery and disorderly conduct following an incident this week at Burger King, 3406 Nameoki Road.

It was reported two men in a pickup truck were causing problems at the drive-up window when Stinson, a passenger in the vehicle, allegedly threw a beer bottle into the restaurant, striking an employee in the stomach and splattering the man's uniform with its contents. Stinson allegedly began yelling and cursing and was arrested. He was released on a $104 cash bond.

New 'Y' fitness director enthusiastic

Dianna Brunzell could be called a fitness addict. Having joined the YMCA staff recently as fitness director, her enthusiasm for fitness is catching.

Mrs. Brunzell, who recently moved to the area with her husband, Bob, new assistant basketball coach at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, decided to inquire about the YMCA position because of her personal involvement in physical fitness programs. "Just my love for fitness and wanting to share that," led her to the job, she said. Originally from Idaho, Mrs. Brunzell said is "really excited about" the Y's new physical fitness programs, including aerobic dance and a course called the "Y's Way to Physical Fitness."

Mrs. Brunzell attended a workshop recently in Exeter's Grove, where the new fitness program for the YMCA here was set up. After having a medical release signed by a physician, participants are given a physical evaluation, including flexibility, strength, endurance and heart and lung performance, she said. "It's going to be a fun program," Mrs. Brunzell said.

In addition to overseeing the fitness programs, Mrs. Brunzell will attend SIUE, where she plans to major in art with a specialization in commercial art.

She also enjoys bicycling, aerobic dance, cross-country skiing, backpacking and white water rafting. Persons interested in the YMCA's physical fitness program should call 779-7200 for more information.

Memorial service for Helen Green

Memorial services for Mrs. Helen Elizabeth (Cox) Green, 58, of 6 East Chain of Rocks Road, Edwardsville, were conducted at 3 p.m. Wednesday, Sept. 1, at Bob Thomas Memorial Mortuary, 2205 Pontoon Road. Cremation followed.

Mrs. Green, a registered nurse, was pronounced dead by Madison County Deputy Coroner Dick Mizell at 9:15 a.m. Saturday, Aug. 28, 1982, at her home. The cause of death was not immediately determined and final reports are pending the results of an investigation and coroner's inquest.

A veteran of service in the U.S. Navy during the Korean War, Mrs. Green had been a nurse for the past 40 years and most recently was in private nursing service. She was a native of Ontario, Canada, a former resident of St. Louis and had lived in the rural Edwardsville area for the past two years.

Among the survivors are her husband, James Green; two sons, Captain John Bergman, U.S. Marine Corps, Los Angeles, Calif., and William Bergman of Rolla, Mo.; three daughters, Miss Barbara Bergman of Edwardsville, Patricia Pereira of Dallas, Tex., and Miss Mary Bergman of St. Louis; a brother, John R. Cox of Ontario, Canada, and two grandchildren.

Woman hurt on Route 162

In a weekend accident on Route 162 at Lake Drive, Pontoon Beach, Mary Kay Rainey, 24, of Granite City, sustained injuries and was admitted to St. Elizabeth Medical Center, where her condition was reported stable earlier this week. Miss Rainey was driving east on Route 162 when she swerved to avoid an oncoming vehicle in her traffic lane and lost control of the car on loose gravel, she told officers. Her vehicle then struck a fence and a dwelling, police said.

DRAG RACING CHARGE
Thomas A. Boelling, 19, who listed addresses in the 2100 block of Cleveland Boulevard and 600 block of Washington Ave., Venice, was charged with drag racing last week when arrested on the Broadway viaduct in Venice. The alleged racing activity, involving two autos in the 700 block of State Street, Madison, according to area residents, who identified Boelling's car as one of the participating vehicles. Boelling posted his driver's license as bond and was released.

YOUTH THROWS BRICK, HURTS GIRL
Mrs. Patsy Woolen, 1735 Olive St., informed police Monday that her 8-year-old daughter, while playing in the rear yard of the home, was struck in the chest with a brick thrown by a 15-year-old youth.

The incident, which resulted in the younger child being treated at St. Elizabeth Medical Center for swelling and abrasions to her chest, occurred during the weekend, the mother said. The 15-year old earlier struck another daughter and threw a younger child to the ground, the mother told police.

WARRANT ARREST
Medford R. Adams, 35, of 1051 Washington Ave., Madison, was arrested at 19th Street and Edison Ave this week on warrants alleging driving while his license was suspended and illegal transportation of alcohol.

CANNABIS CHARGE
A 13-year-old boy was arrested at 1:15 p.m. Monday while seated in an auto in the parking area at Granite City High School South and was charged with unlawful possession of cannabis. A portion of a cannabis cigarette and some seeds were recovered from beneath a seat. He was released to his parents on notice to appear.

Travels to SEMC for news show

By MARIE MCKINSEY
OF SEMC Staff

It's amazing what people will put themselves through just to see a show. They'll stand in line for hours in blistering heat or pouring rain and some will camp overnight on sidewalks to be sure they're first when the ticket windows open.

But among those who go to great lengths to see a particular show, few can outdistance Steven Webb. Webb traveled all the way from Long Beach, Calif., to St. Elizabeth Medical Center here just to watch a news show.

Webb is a graduate student at California State University in Fullerton where he is completing his master's thesis on hospital employee TV news shows. He became interested in such programs because he is a scriptwriter for the employee news show Long Beach Memorial Hospital.

"When I began to do research for my thesis, I sent letters to members of the International TV Association, hospital public relations societies, anyone who listed themselves as news producers, so I could find out which hospitals are doing these programs," he said.

Through his correspondences, he found out about St. Elizabeth Medical Center's employee news show and contacted SEMC's Public Relations Department for more details. Bob Gill, SEMC's video production supervisor, sent him the information along with some background on the Medical Center's closed circuit programming for patients.

Soon afterward, Jinny Tueken, Public Relations director at SEMC, received a phone call from Webb, who wanted to know if he could visit the local hospital and see how the news shows are produced. She expressed surprise that anyone would want to travel that far, but said he was welcome to come.

When Webb arrived here, he explained that so few hospitals have employee news shows that it was necessary for him to travel some distance to visit them in order to complete field research for his thesis.

St. Elizabeth Medical Center is one of only four hospitals in the United States with such programming, Webb said. "Although many large corporations have been doing news shows for some time, hospitals are just beginning to get interested in them." Other hospitals with employee news shows are Tucson Medical Center in Arizona, Mercy Hospital Center in Des Moines, Iowa, and Long Beach Memorial, where Webb is employed. His visit here completed the tour of all four hospitals.

While at SEMC, he watched tapes of the employee news shows produced so far, as well as a number of other programs produced at the Medical Center, ranging from entertainment features to patient education shows. "I'm amazed at the number of programs produced here," said Webb, noting that other hospitals with larger staffs and more equipment are producing only the same amount of programming.

Upon finishing this research at SEMC, Webb said he hated to leave and commented, "The people here are the friendliest ones I've met, and they really seem to enjoy what they are doing. There's some good things going on here," he added.

Thompson opens BAC office

Governor James R. Thompson will open the regional economic development office of the Illinois Department of Commerce and Community Affairs at Belleville Area College tomorrow.

Thompson will open the office in a ribbon-cutting ceremony at 2 p.m. on the campus at 2500 Carlyle Road, Belleville.

The new office has been located in Belleville through the efforts of Rep. Celeste M. Stiehl, R-Belleville. Stiehl was able to obtain additional funds to the department's appropriation to finance the office.

"The department looked at a number of desirable sites in the downtown Belleville area," Miss Stiehl said. "However, because of the important role training programs play in attracting new industry to an area, the department felt the office would be more productive at an on-campus location."

Assisting existing industry in resolving problems and helping local communities with economic development plans, along with attracting new industry into the area, is the primary purpose of the office.

Worry over future buying power hikes interest rates

Lawrence K. Roos, president of the Federal Reserve Bank of St. Louis, warned Monday that reflation would not bring the results its advocates seek, and that pressures for reflation tend to keep interest rates artificially high.

In a speech to the Petroleum and Chemical Industry Conference of the Institute of Electrical and Electronic Engineers at the Sheraton Hotel, Roos said that in the 1970s, when inflation was a new experience for most Americans, people frequently made loans and invested their savings at negative real interest rates because they felt that inflation was a temporary problem that would somehow quickly disappear.

The experience of the past 15 years has taught them that this is not so and, as a result, and prospect of reflation — a return to inflation — causes interest rates to rise as lenders and savers seek to protect themselves against erosion of future purchasing power.

Roos said current pressures for reflation by certain economists and members of Congress are "causing people to become skeptical as to the extent of our current commitment to policies of disinflation.

"Many people who were so badly burned in the 1970s are understandably sensitive to what they read and hear that implies a potential weakening of our resolve to continue the struggle against inflation."

Roos attributed unusually high interest rates in recent months to a concern by the public that policymakers might abandon present anti-inflationary policies and opt instead for reflation.

He proposed three steps to "make our anti-inflation policies credible to a disbelieving public and thus keep interest rates low."

1. "Our monetary policy stance must be maintained.

2. "Federal deficits must be reduced significantly.

3. "The American public must be prepared to resist pressures on policymakers to revert to reflation in order to alleviate the temporary pain of disinflation.

"Only when people become convinced that our current anti-inflation stance is for real and will be pursued over a long period of time," Roos said, "will inflation finally be eliminated and stability — so necessary for economic growth — be restored."

Expect selection of new judge by Sept. 7

Judges in the Third Judicial Circuit must vote by Sept. 7 on candidates for the circuit's new associate judgeship. The judges have seven attorneys from which to pick. Madison and Bond Counties make up the circuit.

Applications were filed at the chief judge's office in the Madison County Courthouse by seven attorneys, including two from Granite City, Norman H. Kinder Jr. and Theodore Barylske.

Barylske was a public defender in Madison County and now is a special defender. He handles cases the public defender's office has difficulty handling due to conflicts of interest.

Kinder, a lifelong resident of Granite City, ran unsuccessfully against Horace Calvo in 1976 for a circuit judgeship. He and his brother, William Kinder, the circuit's public defender, operate the Kinder & Kinder law office in Granite City.

Others who filed for the new judgeship include Bond County State's Attorney Charles Roman, Wendell Durr of Edwardsville, David Grounds of Alton, Bruce Mattea of Collinsville and Daniel Slack of Highland.

Reservation deadline for nurse-candidate dinner

All registered nurses are being invited to the Tenth District Illinois Nurses' Association's bi-annual legislative meeting on Thursday, Sept. 16, at Buckley's Restaurant, Route 159 at Interstate 64, Fairview Heights.

Interested nurses may make reservations by sending a check for $8.50 by Sept. 10 to Ruth Schroeder, treasurer, Route One, Box 324, Highland, IL 62249. More information is available from Karen Kelly Schutzenhofer at 931-0159.

Candidates for the Illinois General Assembly from the nine counties which Tenth District serves have been invited. The evening will begin with a cash bar at 6 p.m., followed by a question and answer session with the candidates. Dinner will be served at 7:30 p.m.

A lobbyist from the Illinois Nurses' Association will speak at the business meeting at 8:30 p.m.

Barney Flippo

Barney F. Flippo, 90, of 2504 Denver St. died at 7:45 p.m. Wednesday, Sept. 1, 1982, at St. Elizabeth Medical Center, where he had been a patient for two weeks.

He was born in Grafton, Ill., and lived in Alton before moving to this area in 1921.

Mr. Flippo worked as a sub-station operator for Union Electric Co. for many years prior to retiring in 1968. He was a member of the Tri-City Park Tabernacle Church and the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers.

His wife, Mrs. Nellie (Howland) Flippo, died in 1965.

Survivors include three daughters, Mrs. Audrey Stone, Granite City, Mrs. Imogene Talley, Newville, Ala., and Mrs. Clarence (Emily) Bolton, Auburn, Ala.; two sons, William and Wayne Flippo, both of Newville, Ala.; two sisters, Mrs. Nellie Hamilton and Mrs. Blanche Grafton, and one brother, Amos "Bud" Whorl, all of Alton; eight grandchildren, 17 great-grandchildren and one great-great-grandchild.

Funeral arrangements are pending at Irwin Chapel for Funerals, 2801 Madison Ave. The telephone number for further information is 877-6500.

Augusta Greer

Mrs. Augusta W. (Elbert) Greer, 96, of Ferndale, Mich., formerly of Granite City, died at 11:35 p.m. Tuesday, Aug. 31, 1982, at Oakland General Hospital, Ferndale.

Born in Forrester, Mo., Mrs. Greer made her home in this area for several years prior to moving to Michigan eight years ago.

Mrs. Greer was a member of St. Paul Lutheran Church in Royal Oak, Mich. Her husband, William Greer, died in 1963.

Survivors include one daughter, Mrs. Marie Martin, of Oak Park, Mich., and a brother, Walter Elbert of Illinois. Mo. Funeral services will be held at 1 p.m. Friday, Sept. 3, at the Sawyer-Fuller Funeral Home in Berkeley, Mich. Burial will be in Lakeview Cemetery, Clarkston, Mich.

Frank Kondrich

Frank Kondrich, 72, of 909 Reynolds St., Madison, a retired steelworker, died at 1:35 a.m. today, Sept. 2, 1982, at St. Elizabeth Medical Center, where he had been a patient for two weeks.

Born in Farmington, Mo. he moved to Madison as a small child and resided there since that time.

Mr. Kondrich worked at Granite City Steel as a chainman until his retirement six years ago.

He was a member of Steelworkers Local 30 and was a U.S. Army veteran.

Survivors include his widow, Mrs. Genevieve (Kalela) Kondrich; one sister, Mrs. Julia Marczak of Granite City, and nieces and nephews.

Visitation will begin at 3 p.m. Friday at Lahey-Sedlack Funeral Home, 501 Madison Ave., Madison, where prayer services will be held at 7 p.m. Friday. The Rev. Nestor Pedesky will officiate at 9 a.m. services on Saturday, Sept. 4, at St. Mary's Greek Catholic Church, 1321 Iowa St., Madison, with burial following at Sunset Hill Cemetery, Edwardsville Township.

Gabriel Leibler

Gabriel L. Leibler, 80, formerly of 1630 Third St., Madison, a retired steelworker, died at 2 a.m. Wednesday, Sept. 1, 1982, at the Edwardsville Care Center, where he had resided for two years.

A native of Newport, Ill., he was a lifetime resident of the Quad-Cities. Mr. Leibler worked at General Steel Industries for 40 years and retired as a foundry foreman.

Mr. Leibler was a member of St. Mary's Catholic Church in Madison, and was a veteran of World War I.

His first wife, Mrs. Clementine Leibler, died in 1946, and his second wife, Mrs. Winifred Leibler died in 1979.

Survivors include a nephew, the Rev. Tom Leibler of Collinsville; one niece, Mrs. George David (Kella) Salant, Edwardsville, and an aunt, Mrs. Elsie Seivers of Edwardsville.

Visitation will begin at 11 a.m. Friday at Lahey-Sedlack Funeral Home, 501 Madison Ave., Madison, where services will be conducted at 1 p.m. Burial will be in Calvary Cemetery, Edwardsville Township.

Warner Stamper

Warner A. Stamper, 83, of Fair Oaks Nursing Home, Greenville, Ill., formerly of Granite City, died at 3:20 p.m. Monday, Aug. 30, 1982, at Ullust

Memorial Hospital in Greenville. He had been ill for several years.

He was born in Dodge City, Kan., on Jan. 15, 1899, and resided in this area from 1922 until two years ago, when he moved to Greenville. Mr. Stamper was a retired coal miner and steelworker.

He was of the Methodist faith.

His wife, Mrs. Ida May (Vernon) Stamper, died in 1957.

Survivors include two sons, Warner Lester Stamper, Rialto, Calif., and Robert Lloyd Stamper of Granite City; one daughter, Mrs. Laurel (Ada Lucille) Noe of Greenville; two sisters, Mrs. Ona Miller of College Station, Texas, and Mrs. Clara Carr of Kemp, Texas; five grandchildren and eight great-grandchildren.

Visitation was at Peretti Funeral Home in Panama, Ill., and funeral services will be held at 1:30 p.m. today at the Panama Methodist Church. Burial will be in Sunnyside Cemetery, Sorento, Ill.

Nicholas Ventimiglia

Nicholas Ventimiglia Sr., 90, of 1750 Maple St., Ill. for three days, died at 9:30 a.m. Wednesday, Sept. 1, 1982, at St. Elizabeth Medical Center.

He was born Oct. 4, 1892 in Italy and came to this country in 1905. Mr. Ventimiglia resided in St. Louis for many years and moved to his present address 14 years ago.

He retired from the Public Service Co. in St. Louis where he had been employed as a laborer.

Mr. Ventimiglia was a member of St. Joseph Catholic Church.

He was preceded in death by his wife, Mrs. Felicia Ventimiglia, who died in 1967, and two sons, Sam and Thomas Ventimiglia.

Survivors include two daughters, Mrs. Josephine Vangel of Granite City and Mrs. Rosalie Palazola, St. Louis; four sons, Joseph, Anthony and Nicholas II all of St. Louis, and Pete Ventimiglia of Italy; 16 grandchildren, 25 great-grandchildren and one great-great-grandchild.

Visitation will begin at 2 p.m. today at Pieper Funeral Home, 1928 Cleveland Blvd. Funeral services will be at 10 a.m. Friday, Sept. 3, from the funeral home to St. Joseph Catholic Church, 2100 State St., for a 10:30 a.m. mass, with the Rev. Gary Peretti, MSF, officiating. Burial will be in Calvary Cemetery, St. Louis.

Repentant thief returns some loot

An apparently repentant burglar on Monday returned most of the items stolen three days earlier from the home of a young woman residing in the 900 block of Alton Avenue in Madison.

Also left was a note of apology.

The victim returned to her home Monday and thought it had been burglarized for the second time in two days. She summoned police, who found several items lined up outside her home.

On Aug. 27, her home was burglarized, the telephone lines cut, and assorted items, including a black and white portable TV, a radio, linens and cosmetic items, were taken. A key ring also was missing after the first incident.

Upon returning to her home Monday, the victim summoned police and reported the residence again had been broken into. Rather than filing items were gone, it was found that most everything taken two days earlier had been returned and lined up near the house.

The note, left in a laundry bag and allegedly written by the burglar, said: "Ms., I truly regret my actions a few days ago. I believe I've returned all that was taken. I will leave some money for repairs in a couple weeks. The Thief. P.S. I've given my heart to Jesus."

"The Thief" had gained entrance to the home by prying open a bedroom window. Her home was completely ransacked at that time, it was reported.

TRANSFER VICTIM

Larry J. Marsala, 29, of Hillsboro, Mo., who suffered injuries to his back, neck, rib area and left knee in an area traffic accident, was given initial treatment at St. Elizabeth Medical Center this week and was transferred to Firmin Desloge Hospital, St. Louis.

speculated they are from this area because a reporter at the Collinsville Herald was the only person reported to receive a telephone call about the kidnapping, but Young refused to comment on the theory.

The FBI does not believe the bunker had been used by the group before and Young said, "it appears the bunker was used for this particular purpose (the Zevallos' confinement)."

Young also refused to comment on reports that the couple was blindfolded and handcuffed. Neither would he talk about any demands made by the abductors.

But Young did state that the Zevallos have not been hypnotized, contrary to widespread reports that they saw a hypnotist. The agent said the FBI planned to use hypnosis, but added that Dr. Zevallos became "upset" when a reporter approached him outside the office of the hypnotist.

The Zevallos, thus far, have not commented publicly about their abduction.

Four composite drawings, instead of three, were released because the Zevallos differed in their descriptions duction, but Young said he believes "they are still concerned about their safety and well-being and their family's (safety)."

The FBI does not believe the kidnapping will spark similar incidents concerning doctors who perform abortions. The U.S. Senate will resume debate after its Labor Day recess on the Human Life Amendment sponsored by Sen. Jesse Helms (R-North Carolina).

The bill asserts that human life begins at conception and, because of this, abortion on demand is considered murder.

"There is no indication that this (the abduction) is a start of something," Young said.

He also said the FBI has concluded, to its best estimation, "that this is not a hoax."

The next step in the investigation is a manhunt for the abductors, all three of whom are described as white males.

Four composite drawings, instead of three, were released because the Zevallos differed in their descriptions district will place liens against their property.

"People just don't realize the cost involved (in fire protection)," he said yesterday. Each fire truck costs from $85,000 to $100,000 and one fireman's clothing runs $450, Macek said. With 23 firemen and seven cadets, outfitting is expensive. "After a while, a lot of the stuff has to be replaced," he added.

Macek added that there has been a rash of fires at vacant buildings in Cloverleaf. At that time, Madison was not legally responsible for investigating fires, but he said the city now will probably check into suspected arson.

Ambulances

Monday, Bob Thomas, president of Bob Thomas Memorial Mortuary, said a joint decision by five local funeral homes to terminate their private ambulance service as soon as the ordinance is in effect, was made last weekend. Thomas said they would rather discontinue their non-emergency ambulance and convalet transportation services than pay the $500 each for a license.

Funeral homes planning to discontinue ambulance service, besides Thomas, are Davis Funeral Home, Ltd., Randall A. Irwin Chapel for Funerals, Mercer Mortuary and Lahey-Sedlack Funeral Home.

of one of the men. One man is about 45 years of age, one in his early 20's and the other in his late teens, the FBI believes.

The older man is between 5 feet, 6 inches, and 5 feet, 8 inches tall, weighing about 200 pounds with a protruding stomach and has short dark hair.

The man in his early 20s is about 6 feet, 1 inch tall, weighing about 200 pounds, with a muscular, athletic build, a pointed chin and a low voice. Two drawings of him were released and the name "Butch" given as an alias.

The third abductor is in his late teens or early 20's, 5 feet, 4 inches tall, weighing 150 pounds with a slender, athletic build.

Young said the Zevallos have not had difficulty remembering their abductors or incidents surrounding their kidnapping.

The FBI is urging anyone with information about the kidnappers to call its St. Louis office at 1-314-241-5357. All information will be confidential, the FBI pledges.

The trial service will be effective through Sept. 30 at 12:59 p.m. Negotiations between the city and the fire district will continue, it was noted at the meeting.

Hospice volunteer meeting tonight

Tonight's Hospice monthly volunteer meeting will be an educational in-service type meeting, according to Rosemarie Lindner, director of public relations for Hospice of Madison County.

"Practical information Regarding Cancer and It's Treatment" will be presented by the Hospice staff, according to Lindner.

The meeting will be in St. Elizabeth Medical Center's President Room from 7 to 9 p.m.

A daytime study support group will begin meeting monthly on Wednesday, Sept. 15, at noon. The study group meet in the Volunteer Office at McKinley School (across from the St. Elizabeth Medical Center).

"This is to keep in touch with volunteers who cannot attend evening meetings and many working people who prefer to attend a luncheon meeting," Mrs. Lindner said.

Director of Volunteers Lois Lybarger is completing a general Hospice volunteer training program which will be offered to the public, Oct. 4, 6, 11 and 13 from 6:30 to 9 p.m. in Pascal Hall at St. Elizabeth Medical Center.

In the first sessions, an overview of Hospice concepts and philosophy will be covered by Mrs. Lybarger.

The history of Hospice of Madison County will be presented by Mrs. Lindner. There also will be discussion with family members to conclude the evening.

Oct. 6, the medical aspects of Hospice care will be presented and the Rev. Chris Zachary will cover the spiritual aspects of nursing care of Hospice patient.

Oct. 11, Dr. Charles Corr will present "Exploration of Personal Wants, Feelings of Death and Dying, plus Self Awareness."

Oct. 13, the bereavement and grief aspects of Hospice will be covered.

Registration may be made through Lois Lybarger, at 786-3488 and will be limited to 30. Questions regarding the Hospice Volunteer program or the training may be directed to 786-3399 or Mrs. Lybarger, 786-3488.

September gardening tasks here

By CHRIS DOLL
Area Garden Adviser
September can be a profitable and enjoyable month for the gardener. It's harvest time for many fruits and vegetables. It's also time for making a few last plantings — and for preparing for next year's garden.

Some highlights for the month are:

Harvest fruits and vegetables. Early September finds grapes, apples, pears, plums, tomatoes, melons, beans and many other crops maturing. This is the time of the year when harvests show the results of good culture.

If you're not satisfied with the quality or yield this year, resolve to do better in variety selection or growing next year.

Plant some late season vegetables. With good fall growing conditions, there is time to plant and harvest snap beans (50-54 days), beets (52-58 days), leaf lettuce (45 days), radishes (22-25 days), spinach (37-45 days). If unfavorable growing conditions delay maturity and harvest, a little seed and labor will be lost.

Keep tomato plants growing. Water, mulches and pesticides, especially those for disease control, are needed to keep healthy, fruitful tomato plants until frost.

One or two pest control sprays at 10-day intervals should be all that is needed if the water and soil fertility are maintained.

Harvest herbs. Cool, dry September days are ideal for drying leafy plants. Pick the leaves or stems when the dew is off the plant. Wash if the leaves are muddy, spattered. Otherwise, just tie 10-12 stems or plants in bundles and hang in an airy, warm, dry place.

Out or kill weeds in the garden. Do this before they make seeds and you will have fewer weeds to fight next year.

Tip-layer black raspberries and thornless blackberries for plant increases. The growing tip of shoots can be covered with an inch or two of soil so that new plants will be available for planting next spring.

Build up the compost pile with garden debris. All the expended plant material in the garden can be tossed into the compost pile for decomposition.

Pick apples when mature. This is usually when the ground or under-color turns yellow or creamy. It is also about the time that stems of healthy fruits separate easily from the spur.

For Southwestern Illinois, this period is early September for Jonathan, late September for Red Delicious and late September for Golden Delicious.

Sow a green manure crop. Rye, annual ryegrass or oats are good crops to sow on vacant ground to give soil protection, smother weeds and increase organic matter.

Don't prune fruit trees. This is the time of the year that leaves are feeding the roots, so the only pruning that should be done is the removal of broken branches and limbs.

Verify peach borer control. Check peach trees for gummy areas containing sawdust. The sawdust would indicate that borers are present and must be dug out with a knife or wire. Gumming without borer residue probably is cold or physical injury, and nothing can be done now.

Watch for San Jose scale on fruit trees. If your fruits have small red spots on the skin or if you can see a gray scale on the twigs, mark the trees or plants for extra-thorough coverage with the dormant oil spray next February.

Check pumpkins and squash for squash bugs. The grayish black bugs and nymphs feed on both fruits and vines and can destroy the crop. They tend to hide under the plant during the day, so lift up the vines or fruit to check for their presence. Carbaryl sprays should do some good.

Keep vegetables harvested. Many vine crops such as cucumbers and squash, and plants such as broccoli and peppers will continue to flower and fruit if kept harvested. Thus, greater yields and a longer harvest season can be expected.

HONORED. Patrick E. Gibbons received a DeMolay wrist watch and check for $50 in recognition of being the top salesman in recruiting more young men into DeMolay in the state. The junior post master counselor of James Stuart Chapter, he was presented with the award at the 54th annual Illinois DeMolay convocation at Western Illinois University in Macomb.

ALLEGES WOMEN STEAL ITEMS

Sarah King, 2157a Benton St., reported at 11:55 p.m. Monday that several items were stolen from her purse while she was visiting the home of a friend, Carolyn Stack, 2159 Benton St., a short time earlier.

Mrs. King reported two women came to the Stack apartment while she was there and began arguing with Mrs. Stack, who told them to leave. After the women were gone, Mrs. King noticed her purse was missing.

About an hour later, one of the women returned with the purse, saying she took it as a joke. A checkbook, check cashing cards, $9 cash and other papers were missing, Mrs. King said. When confronted about the missing items, the woman said her vehicle had been burglarized right after leaving Mrs. Stack's apartment.

FILE DUI CHARGE AGAINST GC YOUTH

Jonathan W. Dobler, 17, of 9 Lakeview Drive, was arrested this week on Madison Avenue at 16th Street and charged with driving while under the influence of alcohol and failing to reduce speed to avoid an accident. He was released from custody about three hours later on notice to appear.

Dobler's northbound auto allegedly ran into the rear of a pickup truck, also headed north, which was stopped for a red light, witnesses said. The driver of the truck reportedly alighted and checked on Dobler, who was uninjured before leaving the scene, police were told.

GRANITE CITY (ILL.) PRESS-RECORD, Thursday, September 2, 1982—7

Book Two men after incident

Patrick J. Green, 18, of 2807 Hodges Ave., and Michael W. Green, 27, of 2808 Buxton Ave., were arrested this week on charges resulting from an incident in the Sports Tap parking lot, 918 Niedringhaus Ave.

Two officers, one off-duty, alleged hearing a noise and seeing someone smashing boards on the parking lot fence. They reported finding the Greens near the lot and tried to get the men to leave, but the pair allegedly remained and began screaming at the officers. Patrick Green allegedly tried to open a door of the squad car, striking the off-duty officer in the face, and became further violent upon reaching the police station. Force was required to remove him from the squad car.

About 45 minutes later, Patrick Green was taken to St. Elizabeth Medical Center, where several sutures were taken for a laceration to his lip. He was charged with resisting arrest, criminal damage to property and disorderly conduct and was released upon paying a $265 cash bond.

Michael Green, who also allegedly used abusive language, was charged with disorderly conduct. He was released on a $52 cash bond.

FENCE DAMAGE

Steve E. Whitaker, 17, of 2316 Logan Ave., was charged with criminal damage to property, together with two 13-year-old boys and a 16-year-old youth, during the weekend. The foursome, arrested near the 20th Street railroad tracks, allegedly pulled boards from a picket fence at a residence in the 2000 block of Missouri Avenue. All were released to their parents on notice to appear.

The Tri-City Area YMCA Swim Team is holding open practices this week. Practice times for ages 12 and under will be 6:30 to 7:30 and for ages 13 and up 7:30 to 8:30 p.m. Karen Smith will coach the team again this year.

Regular practice will begin on Wednesday, Sept. 2. Twelve-year-olds and under will practice from 6:30 to 7:30 p.m. and 13 and up will practice from 7:30 to 8:30 p.m. Practice sessions will be Mondays and Wednesdays from 6:30 to 8:30 and Fridays from 6:30 to 8:00 p.m. Practice will also be held on Saturday mornings from 7 to 9 a.m.

The Parent's Club will hold a meeting on Wednesday, Sept. 15, at the YMCA, at 7:30 p.m.

For more information, interested persons may call Charles Sabo, Swim Team president, at 451-8074. Anyone interested in joining the swim team is being invited to come to open practice now through tomorrow.

Benefit Sunday for girl with heart disease

By ED GURNEY

Two years ago, Sharon Strubberg was told that her infant daughter had terminal heart disease.

"They told me to take her home, there's nothing we can do. She's going to die," Mrs. Strubberg, a former Granite Cityan, said.

She refused to accept what the doctors saw as inevitable. Her daughter, Samantha, is now 2½.

"They say it's terminal, but they say she's better than they thought she'd be," Mrs. Strubberg said. "They say she might be a miracle baby. I'm not giving up on her."

Mrs. Strubberg, 32, now lives in Maryville with her daughter, her son, Terry, and her mother, Cathy Cornett.

Samantha has cardiomyopathy, a disease of the heart muscle, according to Dr. Leonard Fagan, a cardiologist at Cardinal Glennon Hospital in St. Louis. Her heart does not pump properly.

Samantha takes two types of medicine a day, including digitalis to strengthen the heart muscle. "She has to be handled medically, not surgically," Dr. Fagan said. "We're doing the best we can."

The disease is more common and more serious in adults, but it is "not terribly unusual" in children, Dr. Fagan said. There is no cure.

What is the life expectancy? "We know," Dr. Fagan said. He knows of a girl who lived to age 22 and went to college. When Mrs. Strubberg was told two years ago that her child had cardiomyopathy, she took her to the Mayo Clinic in Minnesota for a second opinion. Dr. Fagan said it is something Cardinal Glennon recommends.

The doctors at Mayo said there was a chance she might have had a tumor in the heart. She didn't, an analysis of a biopsy taken in an operation confirmed the previous diagnosis.

At age 17 months, Samantha had an operation at Cardinal Glennon to repair an aneurysm in her heart. She has had four major heart attacks, including one six weeks ago, her mother said.

Samantha looks and acts much like a normal 2½-year-old, although there are differences.

She weighs 21 pounds, nine pounds under the normal weight for a girl her age. Mrs. Strubberg said, "She still takes two naps a day while most kids won't," she added.

Samantha is on a no-salt diet and must be kept in an air conditioned environment. She isn't strong enough to receive immunization shots, but she takes heart medicine. She goes to the heart clinic at Cardinal Glennon at least once a month.

Medical bills have totaled more than $100,000, but they have not been a problem until recently. Mrs. Strubberg had a medical card from the Illinois Department of Public Aid, and also has received help from the Heart Association and other sources, she said.

Mrs. Strubberg is divorced and unemployed. "I just can't get a job and leave her with anybody," she said. "She's got to be watched."

Mrs. Strubberg said she lost her medical card in July because her mother, by mistake, deposited three $20 child support checks in Mrs. Strubberg's checking account, rather than turning them over to the Department of Public Aid. Along with the medical card went $236 per month in welfare and $58 in food stamps, she said.

Her son still receives $300 per month in social Security and veterans benefits through his father and her first husband, who died. Mrs. Strubberg said she had to move from her home in Granite City to live with her mother when the welfare was cut off. She said she hopes to have her benefits reinstated this month. "My money only goes so far on a payday," said Mrs. Cornett.

her mother, who is employed at Wal-Mart in Collinsville.

Fred Mecalco, owner of Fred's Happy Corner, 701 Vandalia, said that when he heard about Samantha, he decided to help sponsor a benefit for the Strubbergs. It will be from noon to 9 p.m. Sunday, Sept. 5, on the Kroger store lot, 717 Vandalia, Collinsville.

Proceeds will go toward Samantha's medical expenses and to pay for a second trip Mrs. Strubberg wants to make to Mayo Clinic, Mearns said.

An auction of items donated by merchants will be held at 4 p.m. Sunday. Several bands have agreed to perform and there will be beer and food available, Mecalco said. Those unable to attend may donate to the Samantha Strubberg Benefit Fund at First National Bank in Collinsville, he added.

Mrs. Strubberg said she didn't ask for the benefit. "I just feel it's asking for charity and I don't like to do that to anybody," she said.

She would like to use some of the money to get an apartment or house of her own. The trip to Mayo Clinic would be for further tests, she said.

Mrs. Strubberg hopes that some day doctors will find a cure for her daughter's heart disease.

"All we have to offer her is hope," Dr. Fagan said.

Misplaced sewer line woes passed on to Springfield

Madison County Special Sewer District representatives planned to meet this morning in Springfield with Illinois Environmental Protection Agency (IEPA) officials to discuss the Brandon Heights situation, which holding up about $400,000 of the final payment from the grant which helped fund construction of the new sanitary sewers through Nameeki, Chouteau and Venice townships.

Committee Chairman Mackin Miles, a county board member from Chouteau Township, said today's meeting is not guaranteed to produce a solution in the continuing controversy of the sewer lines that were misplaced in residential backyards.

Miles hopes the district will at least be able to reach a compromise with the state agency about freeing the remaining grant funds. The state IEPA has shown a reluctance to release the money without a resolution of the Brandon Heights question.

Another issue to be discussed is the possible 75 percent state funding of the estimated $80,000 needed to repair and connect the sewer lines to the county's system. Litigation stalled a prior hookup of the apartments with the county system.

According to Miles, developer Jim Green approached the committee last spring about procedures in hooking up the apartments and was told he might qualify for a state grant. The apartment complex now uses a lagoon system, which will have to be discontinued.

Another IEPA Springfield meeting, which had been set for tomorrow with Mayor Bill Schulz, the county sewer officials and Glen Carbon Mayor Ron Foster, has been cancelled, the Press-Record has learned.

At the meeting, Granite City had been expected to present "more concrete" figures on the cost of possibly connecting some Glen Carbon sewers users to the Granite City treatment plant via the county sewers. The meeting will be rescheduled.

The IEPA had been expected months ago to announce which treatment plant they want Glen Carbon to use, if grant funds are to be made available.

Mayor Foster said talks between himself and Granite City officials have never gone beyond preliminary discussion stages.

Earlier, Foster said he would prefer to connect his village with the planned Edwardsville system, but no longer wishes to comment on his choice. He said the IEPA has requested he keep "an open mind" concerning the two alternatives.

Health cost uptrend cited

"Getting sick or injured has become a burden beyond the means of all but the very rich. It is hard to imagine that any of us can afford 'life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness' without a guarantee from society that both basic and major health needs can be addressed," Senator Sam Vadalabene said at a late-summer legislative hearing on insurance.

"It is essential that we all recognize that the power to control rising health costs is considerably limited," the state senator testified.

"In recent months, we have witnessed a significant cooling off of inflation for the economy in general."

"Still, the rising cost for hospital stays and medical treatment has bucked this trend and continued to move upward," Vadalabene asserted.

"The Illinois Department of Insurance has properly recognized cost containment as the most urgent priority."

Admit cyclist after accident

Robert E. Finke Jr., 21, of 2619 Sunset Drive, was taken by ambulance to St. Elizabeth Medical Center and admitted during the weekend with abrasions to his face, right leg and ankle, incurred in an accident a few minutes earlier in the parking area at Nash's Lounge, 3675 Nameoki Road.

Finke sustained the injuries when the motorcycle he was operating in the parking lot collided with a vehicle driven by Drew A. Callendar, 23, of 925 Iowa St., Madison.

In the emergency room, Finke reportedly agreed to take a blood alcohol test and later was charged with driving under the influence of alcohol.

RANSACK TRUCK

Thieves ransacked the truck of George Harding, 1422 Second St., Madison, stealing a black briefcase and a 40-channel CB radio, he reported last week.

"Operations and hospital rooms cost a lot more than you think."

For most insurance companies, outlays on claims exceed the premium income. "For the individual, there is no more painful anxiety than the reduced sense of security that increased health costs bring. "Medicare and Medicaid are being drastically cut already and the new federal tax bill envisions further reductions," Sen. Vadalabene asserted. "Many subscribers are now forced to augment their coverage with 'wrap-around' policies, since they can no longer safely assume that Blue Cross and Blue Shield will do enough. "Because Blue Cross and Blue Shield have accepted the responsibility as major agents in the health insurance field for both the private sector and state employees, the Department of Insurance has an overriding interest in making sure there is a full accounting for the manner in which this duty is discharged. "If there are management techniques and structural problems inherent in the way Blue Cross and Blue Shield operates that need changing, it is up to us to see that this is accomplished," Vadalabene concluded.

Four local county board members earn four-year seats in lottery

Four Madison County Board members from the Quad-City area, including Board Chairman Nelson Hagnauer, won four-year terms in a lottery held by the Madison County Clerk Tuesday.

The lottery was held at the recommendation of the State Board of Elections. A bill on the governor's desk would require county clerks to hold a lottery before Sept. 1 to determine the length of term for board members in single member districts, such as in Madison County.

In the past, the lottery has been held after the election. Three Granite City Township members, Hagnauer, from the 20th District, William B. Webb, from the 19th District, and Vasil Effimoff, from the 21st District, won four-year terms. Louis Whisell, from the 26th District in Namakee Township, also won a four-year term but did not seek re-election.

Board members who received two-year terms in the lottery are Morris W. Miles of the 16th District in Channah Township, Herbert Milton Jr. of the 22nd District in Granite City Township, Roderick Bauder of the 23rd District in Venice Township, and Frank Dutko of the 24th District in Madison Township.

All of these board members are Democrats. Other board members who won four-year terms in the lottery are Alan J. Dunston, D-Second District; H. Jack Frandsen, D-Third District;

Park IDs now required for reserving shelters

The Granite City Park District is announcing that ID cards will be required for everyone enrolling in fall and winter activities. They also are being required of residents when reserving a shelter in Wilson Park or when signing up for one of the many bus trips taken by the park district.

This policy is being enforced in order that the taxpayers residents of the district be given the benefits of the use of the facilities and programs, said Dave Nelson, director of parks and recreation. The cost of an ID card is $1 and is valid for three years.

In order to have an ID made, it is necessary to bring proof of residence to the Wilson Park Office Monday thru Friday any week except the fourth week of the month. Hours for obtaining IDs are 2 until 4 p.m.

Proof of residence consists of a current utility bill, such as a phone bill, sewer bill or recent canceled check. Drivers' licenses are not acceptable, unless very recently obtained. Special sessions, in addition to the above, for having IDs made will be on Thursday evening, Sept. 9 from 7 until 9 p.m. and Saturday morning, Sept. 11 from 9:30 to 11:30.

Park plans trip to New Harmony, Ind.

The Granite City Park District is planning a one-day trip for Saturday, Sept. 16 to New Harmony, Ind.

New Harmony is located approximately 25 miles west of Evansville, Ind., on the Wabash River. The small town was the site of two experiments in communal living in the first half of the 19th Century. Also, this was the location of the first free coeducational school system consisting of an infant school, manual training school and adult education program. New Harmony also lays claim to one of the earliest free public libraries, dramatic club and United States Geological Society. The group will leave the Wilson Park Ice Rink at 8 a.m. and return at approximately 7 p.m. Lunch will be in New Harmony and there may be other impromptu stops along the way.

The cost of the trip is $12 for the bus and $4 for the tour of the town, a total of $16. Lunch will be at each participant's own expense. This will be the first of two one-day trips planned by the park district for the fall season.

Parents say pupils need bus transportation

To the Editor:

We the parents, concerned neighbors and friends of Monroe, Lee and Washington avenues in Granite City, would like to express our concern for the children who live in this neighborhood. Our children have to walk 1½ to 2 miles to South High School. The school will not provide bus transportation for them.

We think that this is unfair to the children. In the winter, the weather is so bad. It's cold, snowy, rainy and these children have to walk in all this.

In these days and times it is also very risky for them to walk. You never know when they may be picked up by strangers and forced to do things that will hurt them. They may be harassed by others.

Some of our children may not be in the best of health every day, but they still must go to school. They are only allowed so many misses from school and then they either flunk their grades or have to take finals.

We, the parents, have talked or should I say, tried to talk to the school board and the bus transportation, and all we get is a run around. They will not answer our calls or see us.

We have gotten together, gotten a petition and signed names of the people in the neighborhood. We have handed this in with a letter to the school board asking permission to speak at the school board meeting at 7:30 p.m. Sept. 7.

Any of the people and parents of the children who we missed with our petition may help us with showing up at the meeting Sept. 7 at the Granite City School Board Office, 20th and Adams streets. We are asking for help.

Grateful for Rev. Maxton's years of help

To the Editor:

Please help me find the proper words to pay tribute to the Rev. David Bruce Maxton, who has been a blessing to our community.

For the countless hours spent going from room to room at St. Elizabeth's Hospital and other hospitals in the metropolitan area with compassion and comfort for our ill without regards of their race, age, or religious affiliations. For the many calls and trips made at all hours of the day and night to help bridge the generation gaps between our youth and their parents.

For the many sanctified moments and their own seeing which have resulted in lasting happiness over the years. And the many wounds you have helped heal with your fine services and consolation towards a family which has lost a loved one. Always saying the right words at the right time, always sharing your sincerity, your warmth and your smile.

All this, and much more, not to exclude your regular Sunday services, so well thought of by all of us.

Yes, Rev. Maxton, as you have stated, "We have mingled together, cried together and worshipped together." For 24 years, how does one find the proper words to thank you and Ella for all you have done?

Please help me in wishing Rev. David Bruce Maxton and Ella all the best life has to offer, for they have been doing that for us for 24 years.

Offer water exercise for seniors

The Tri-City Area YMCA will again be offering a senior water exercise class on Friday mornings from 9 to 10.

The class, taught by Nancy Halvachs, will emphasize flexibility and muscle toning, with some moderate distance swimming. The first session will start on Friday, Sept. 10. Fee for the four weeks will be $2.

Interested persons may call the YMCA at 876-7200 or stop at 2001 Edison Avenue to register.

Hunter safety course offered by GC parks

The Granite City Park District will be sponsoring a Hunter's Safety Course as one of its Fall programs.

Beginning July 1, 1976, no hunting licenses were issued to any person under 16 years of age except those showing either evidence that they held hunting licenses, issued by the state of Illinois or another state in a prior year, or a certificate of competence.

The Park District will offer a course for fathers and sons in wildlife management, firearms safety, first aid, hunter ethics and survival techniques. Illinois law requires certification for all persons under age 16.

Sessions will be Monday evenings, Sept. 20, Sept. 27 and Oct. 4 at the Harold Brown Recreation Center from 6 to 9 p.m., taught by Lee Reed. It is compulsory that persons attend each session in order to qualify for a completed course. All teens must be accompanied by an adult.

Participants must enroll at the Park Office, classes will be limited to 30. Those passing the course will be awarded a certificate. Registration is under way at the park office.

Breast milk offers many advantages

(This is the 12th in a series of 15 articles exploring "Food and People." In this article, Derrick B. Jelliffe, professor of public health and pediatrics, and E. F. Patrice Jelliffe, lecturer and researcher, both in UCLA's School of Public Health, discuss reasons for the concern over growing use of baby formula in the Third World. Copyright (c) 1982 by the Regents of the University of California.)

Although breast-feeding has increased in the last ten years in industrialized nations, its rapid decline among poorer peoples may pose a major public health problem throughout the world.

Breast-feeding is extremely desirable in all communities, but in poor circumstances it becomes vital for survival.

It has been estimated that more than 10 million babies a year suffer ill health as a result of the decline in breast-feeding. UNICEF has estimated a possible one million deaths from this cause annually.

A broad program of education for the general public, as well as specific measures aimed at health professionals and infant formula companies, are necessary if we are to reverse this trend.

Bottle-feeding with formula seemed modern, scientific and in tune with urban life from the 1920s through the 1960s.

But research has increasingly shown that human milk differs in almost every respect from formulas based on cow's milk.

Breast milk is a highly complex living fluid, which has been modified and adapted over the course of human evolution to suit the particular needs of the human baby.

Breast milk differs from formulas in its biochemical composition — including the type of protein, fatty acids, minerals and enzymes present.

It also contains antibodies and white cells that protect the infant against infection, as well as anti-allergic properties that are lacking in formulas.

The process of breast-feeding also differs from that of bottle-feeding: the intimate process of nursing helps to form a closer mother-child relationship.

Nevertheless, adequate bottle-feeding is possible. However, three requirements are met: parents must have sufficient money to purchase enough formula, reasonable home hygiene (including storage and, particularly, a clean water supply), and sufficient education and understanding to prepare formula correctly.

These requirements can usually be met in Western Europe, Australia, North America and similar areas where most people are relatively well-to-do.

BOTTLE-FEEDING AMONG THE POOR. In poor, disadvantaged communities, however, the necessary income, hygiene and education are frequently lacking.

This is true for pockets of poverty in otherwise affluent nations — such as some Indian reservations in the United States or urban slums in Europe — as well as for the majority in less developed countries.

For most people in the Third World, adequate bottle-feeding may require 50 to 75 percent of their basic salaries, and home hygiene and water supplies are very poor.

Consequently, extremely diluted formula is often given, using contaminated water and a filthy bottle and nipple.

The result frequently is diarrheal disease and marasmus (starvation). Unfortunately, in many developing countries this situation is on the increase in the slums that are mushrooming around large cities.

On a national level, a large-scale decline in breast-feeding means a large-scale expenditure for breast-milk substitutes that can amount to millions of dollars and further strain the balance of payments.

In addition, breast-feeding has the effect of spacing out the intervals between child births, as many lactating women cease to menstruate for 18 months or more. This natural form of birth control is lost when breast-feeding is abandoned.

The reasons for the decline in breast-feeding, despite its advantages, have been similar wherever it has occurred: health professionals who have been inadequately trained in breast-feeding; practices in hospital maternity wards; increase in the numbers of women working away from home; and aggressive advertising of infant formula.

PROMOTING BREAST-FEEDING. Programs to promote breast-feeding, therefore, must deal with these causes of its decline.

Mothers must be given the confidence necessary for successful breast-feeding as well as the opportunities for frequent nursing that will stimulate their production of milk.

Information and education for the general public, school children and, especially, parents, should have government support.

Increased attention must be given to breast-feeding in the curricula of health personnel, especially pediatricians, obstetricians and maternity unit nurses.

Fortunately, this is slowly occurring as new scientific information and textbooks become available.

Current practices in maternity units also need scrutiny. The practice of separating mother and baby is unnatural and would not be tolerated in any other species.

Hospital regimens could be redesigned to increase breast-feeding at no cost whatsoever.

The practice of hospital personnel giving out samples of formula to mothers departing the hospital is particularly likely to sabotage breast-feeding by undermining the mother's confidence and by making free formula temporarily available.

The problems posed by new mothers working outside the home are often serious. In Third World countries, the mother's entire salary is seldom enough to buy adequate formula — and it rarely goes exclusively to this purpose.

In an effort to meet the problem of working mothers, some countries have mandated up to 12 weeks of maternity leave.

Also, in some countries, factories employing 15 or more women must provide an area where lactating mothers can take two "milk breaks" daily.

Under the circumstances in most developing countries, when mothers leave their babies to be bottle-fed by older children or other helpers, the situation can be extremely hazardous.

Problems of contamination and overdilution are made worse by the uncertainty of the baby's being adequately fed in the mother's absence.

ADVERTISING INFANT FORMULA. The greatest controversy surrounds measures to deal with the aggressive marketing tactics of infant formula companies.

Critics have argued that it is unethical to promote unaffordable products in countries with poor hygiene, where the inevitable result is overdiluted and contaminated feedings and a high risk of marasmus, diarrhea and death.

The formula companies have responded that their marketing is aimed at the well-to-do and at women who must work and whose milk is insufficient. But, in fact, advertising through mass media, such as radio, is not selective in its audience.

Concerned groups in the United States have mobilized public opinion. Their efforts have resulted in some consumers boycotting a major manufacturer and promoter of infant formula, and prompted Senate hearings in May 1979.

A few months later, a meeting of the World Health Organization (WHO) recommended that WHO and UNICEF prepare a Code of Marketing of Breast Milk Substitutes that would serve as a guideline to governments wishing to prevent unethical marketing of formulas.

A code seemingly acceptable to the infant food industry was finally drafted after more than a year of negotiations.

Among other recommendations, it called for banning direct advertising of infant formula to populations where it could not be used adequately, and for eliminating the distribution of free samples to new mothers.

But at the last moment, the infant food companies changed their position and opposed the code.

When the World Health Assembly voted on the code in May 1981, the U.S. cast the sole negative vote.

That this was contrary to expert health opinion in the U.S. government is indicated by the resignation of two top officials in the Agency for International Development.

That the vote did not represent national views is demonstrated by resolutions protesting it which passed Congress 301 to 100 and the Senate 98 to 2.

Thus, public opinion clearly recognized that only through a multi-pronged program that includes the control of inappropriate marketing practices can we hope to reverse the decline in breast-feeding and to save millions of children from debilitating disease and death.

Next, Janet W. Lowenthal, who edited the report of the Presidential Commission on World Hunger, discusses what can be done to overcome world hunger.

Thus, public opinion clearly recognized that only through a multi-pronged program that includes the control of inappropriate marketing practices can we hope to reverse the decline in breast-feeding and to save millions of children from debilitating disease and death.

Next, Janet W. Lowenthal, who edited the report of the Presidential Commission on World Hunger, discusses what can be done to overcome world hunger.

unaffordable products in countries with poor hygiene, where the inevitable result is overdiluted and contaminated feedings and a high risk of marasmus, diarrhea and death.

The formula companies have responded that their marketing is aimed at the well-to-do and at women who must work and whose milk is insufficient. But, in fact, advertising through mass media, such as radio, is not selective in its audience.

Concerned groups in the United States have mobilized public opinion. Their efforts have resulted in some consumers boycotting a major manufacturer and promoter of infant formula, and prompted Senate hearings in May 1979.

A few months later, a meeting of the World Health Organization (WHO) recommended that WHO and UNICEF prepare a Code of Marketing of Breast Milk Substitutes that would serve as a guideline to governments wishing to prevent unethical marketing of formulas.

A code seemingly acceptable to the infant food industry was finally drafted after more than a year of negotiations.

Among other recommendations, it called for banning direct advertising of infant formula to populations where it could not be used adequately, and for eliminating the distribution of free samples to new mothers.

But at the last moment, the infant food companies changed their position and opposed the code.

When the World Health Assembly voted on the code in May 1981, the U.S. cast the sole negative vote.

That this was contrary to expert health opinion in the U.S. government is indicated by the resignation of two top officials in the Agency for International Development.

That the vote did not represent national views is demonstrated by resolutions protesting it which passed Congress 301 to 100 and the Senate 98 to 2.

Thus, public opinion clearly recognized that only through a multi-pronged program that includes the control of inappropriate marketing practices can we hope to reverse the decline in breast-feeding and to save millions of children from debilitating disease and death.

Jr. high fee on Sept. 8

On Wednesday, Sept. 8, 1982, all three Granite City Community Unit District Nine junior high schools will be collecting the approved instructional materials fee. The fee for junior high school students is $5 per semester and pays for workbooks, worksheets, construction paper, other consumable materials and the physical education lock fee.

Parents have the option of paying for the entire year ($10) at the first collection date.

Cooperation is being requested for all students to bring the payment to their homeroom class, a spokesman said.

Checks may be made payable to either Granite City Community Unit District Nine or to the respective junior high school.

The schools are Coolidge, Prather and Grigsby. Each serves seventh and eighth graders.

PRESS-RECORD ASKS GET RESULTS

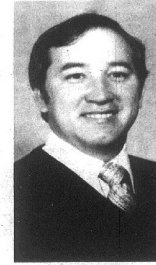

Alan Crider indicted on theft, forgery charges

Alan R. Crider, 33, of 4084 Stearns Ave., former director of the gifted student programs for the Granite City School District, posted bond Tuesday in Madison County Circuit Court on felony charges of forgery and theft.

Crider was indicted by a Madison County grand jury one week ago on the charges, which stemmed from Crider's handling of his late mother's estate, according to Assistant State's Attorney Tom Long, who conducted the inquest before the grand jury.

Long said that Crider was executor of his mother's estate and allegedly forged deeds conveying her real estate to himself without paying compensation to the estate, which was to be divided among five other beneficiaries and himself.

His bond was set at $50,000 by the grand jury and signed by Associate Judge Edward C. Ferguson. Crider appeared at the Madison

ALAN CRIDER

County Courthouse at Edwardsville Tuesday to post bond. He then was released, pending an arraignment.

Crider was employed by the Granite City School District from 1970 through 1977 as a teacher and later administrator of the gifted program. He moved to Texas, but returned in 1979 and taught junior high school in Clayton, Mo.

He ran unsuccessfully in November 1981 for a two year term on the Granite City School Board.

PROWLING CHARGE Jerry D. Oliphant, 23, of East Prairie, Mo., arrested at the rear of Bethel Chapel, 25th Street and Ohio Avenue, at 12:35 a.m. Tuesday, was charged with prowling. Officers investigating the alarm near that location alleged seeing Oliphant walking at the rear of the church. A portion of the church currently is under construction, the report said.

Madison initiates paperwork to raze delapidated house

By NANCY WEIL
of the Press-Record

Rats, mice, bugs and squirrels have taken up residence at 1238 Grand Ave. in Madison and the human neighbors do not appreciate the company.

After receiving telephone calls from neighbors last week, the Press-Record went to the house and took photographs. Coincidentally, the structure was brought up at Tuesday's Madison council meeting by Building Inspector John Dutko.

"It is difficult to pinpoint when the assorted creatures moved into the dilapidated two-story house, but they have had plenty of time to settle in, because the house has been vacant for about 25 years.

Unfortunately, the tiny residents cannot maintain the house and, perhaps disliking its looks as much as the complaining humans, the little fellows have started to move into neighboring homes.

The result of living near the eyesore is that insurance companies are refusing to write homeowner policies to neighboring residents.

Vasil Graville, Madison city health officer, yesterday placed a notice on the side of the house with the hope that Anthony Podnar, the owner who lives next door, would see the health notice and call city officials.

The city has tried various methods to get Podnar, who uses the vacant house for storage, to have it torn down and they have finally decided to seek a court order for condemnation of the structure.

But, said Dutko, condemning the house could take years to get through the court system. Dutko told the council Tuesday that he is going to take the necessary steps to have the structure condemned.

"We've talked to them (the owners) and they've made all sorts of promises. We wanted to get this done without a court order," Dutko said yesterday.

For two years, Dutko has struggled with Podnar to have the house destroyed. Podnar promised he would tear the house down after a garage was built in the back yard for storage. The garage was completed in June.

The house still stands and there is every reason to suspect the creatures residents have started to multiply.

"It's a safety hazard. It's a real potential fire hazard," Dutko asserted.

Graville shares Dutko's concern about the potential hazards of the house. He said he fears that children will get into the structure, if a fire were started, he said it would burn down not only the vacant house, but also neighbor's homes.

It is Graville's hope that the health notice will elicit a response from Podnar.

The ordinance says that "it is the duty of every owner, agent, or occupant," of any building — homes, restaurants, etc., to keep the building in "good order and repair." Those in violation of the ordinance face a fine of not less than $5 and not more than $200.

In Podnar's case, there is the possibility of several offenses, officials contend. The condition of the house itself is considered one of offense, Graville said. The back yard is full of rubbish, which allegedly is another offense. The critics who have taken over present another potential health offense.

Dutko said he has sent numerous letters to Podnar and has been told repeatedly that the problem would be taken care of. "It's more or less beyond repair," Dutko said.

The city, he said, has not taken action sooner because it was hoped that Podnar would tear the house down voluntarily. "The biggest reason is that these people just did not keep their word," he alleged.

But, city officials obviously are tired of talk and promise that action will be taken. It looks like the rats, mice, bugs and squirrels will have to look for another place to reside, eventually.

NEIGHBORHOOD EYESORE. Residents in the 1200 block of Grand Avenue in Madison are upset about the eyesore which has stood vacant for 25 years. Rats, mice, bugs and squirrels have moved into the residence and have allegedly started to infest neighboring houses. Neighbors have been complaining that the house should be torn down and saying that insurance companies refuse to write policies for their homes. Madison officials announced Tuesday night that they are taking steps to have the house condemned, so it can be torn down.

Vandals smash windows

Several large plate glass windows and outdoor lights were smashed by rock-throwing vandals, it was reported to police Tuesday morning.

Two decorative lights outside Stefanie's, 1322 Nineteenth St., were damaged. Rudy Novik, owner, reported at 9:40 a.m. Tuesday. In a subsequent report, police learned that two men were seen near the front of the store the previous night.

Rocks thrown through a 12-by-6-foot window at Henry Burns Furniture, 19th Street and Delmar Avenue, also damaged two dining room chairs displayed inside, it was reported Tuesday.

Reports made simultaneously at 8:35 a.m. Tuesday noted that a large plate glass window at the Associated Retailers and Civic Association office, 1831 Delmar Ave., was smashed with rocks, and two 10-foot windows at Commercial Office Products, 1839 Delmar Ave., likewise were broken, probably by the same vandals.

DISPLAYS WEAPON, FACES CHARGES

Madison police arrested Blake Knox, 325 Madison Ave., Madison, after it was reported that he had a pistol in his possession Sunday at 12:15 a.m. in front of Al's 520 Club, 520 Madison Ave., Madison.

Police on a routine check, were stopped by two women who told them that a man was in front of the club with a gun.

Upon arriving, police found and searched Knox and confiscated a .357-magnum handgun which was tucked in his belt. It was reported, Knox was charged with unlawful use of a weapon and failure to have a firearm owner's ID card. He was released on $102 bond.

Raise for school cooks approved

The Granite City Board of Education has formally approved a new hourly pay scale for cooks at a rate two percent more than was paid in 1981-82.

Other details of the 1982-83 agreement with cafeteria workers, reached in early August, will be adopted by the board this month. Working had not yet been finalized last week.

No action was taken on a proposed 1982-83 contract for the Quad-City area's Alternative Education Program, which is operated by Coordinated Youth Services.

No change was made last week in existing remedial instruction services provided at District Nine buildings to pupils of local non-public schools. A request to revise these services has been received.

Cosmetology will be offered for six semesters of instruction at a total cost of $1,400 per student. The previous contract price was $1,200.

South-Western Cable TV will videotape high school soccer and football games for delayed broadcast and will tape an invitational cross-country running meet.

A leave of absence through Dec. 31 was granted to Elbert Hileman, a Nameoki School custodian. He cited personal illness.

An extension to his leave of absence was approved for Gary D. Presley, a school psychologist employed by the Quad-City special education region. Psychological services will be obtained on a contractual basis.

Presley's 1981-82 exploratory leave was continued at his request, and the board waived the normal application deadline. He commented, "I regret the timing of this request (Aug. 19). Factors beyond my control during the past month made an extension necessary."

Also granted leave extensions were Amy Madrid, Lake School upper primary teacher; Barbara L. Fulmer, a GCHS North cafeteria employee; and Richard G. Pritchard, a GCHS South custodian. The extensions expire Nov. 1, Dec. 31 and Oct. 1, respectively. The three are ill.

Charlotte Charbonnier has resigned from her extracurricular duties as South cross-county team assistant coach and will be succeeded by Sam Nesbit.

Extracurricular appointments at South in addition to Nesbit include: David McClain and Tom Skubish, assistant football coaches; and Ruth Geggus, assistant volleyball coach.

Coolidge Junior High volleyball coach will be Ruth Noeth.

North High extracurricular appointees include: Don Harris, assistant football coach; Paula Wise, girls' head volleyball coach, assisted by Connie King; Larry Lipe, girls' tennis coach; Terry Papa, basketball and football varsity cheerleaders.

Also at North: Andy Yurko and Teresa Johnson, National Honor Society; Steve Hamilton, student council; Janet Davinroy, Future Homemakers of America; and Judy Sparks, Betty Dumont and Janet Davinroy, underclass members of basketball, football, soccer and wrestling.

With Elfriede Olney deciding not to accept a position as occupational therapist with the special education region, Jane MacGregor, a certified occupational therapist, was hired for 182 days at a contractual rate not to exceed $20,020.

Also employed for the special education program was Vicki Lightfoot, a certified physical therapist assistant. She will receive $8,900 for 1982-83.

GC Jaycees aiding Muscular Dystrophy

The Granite City Jaycees will be seeking donations at several intersections in the community from 9 a.m. until 5 p.m. Saturday," Beyer said.

Additionally, the local Jaycees are donating the proceeds from two nights at the Nameoki Bingo Center, including Sunday's session, and will sponsor a funnel cake booth at the St. Louis area's MD telethon, scheduled Labor Day, Belleville.

Three charged with tampering in auto

Three men, one of whom gave an alias to police, were arrested after neighbors reported seeing them trying to enter cars parked on Circle Drive at Lee Wright Homes in Venice late last week.

The men, all from East St. Louis, were arrested later that night and during the weekend after police were aided by residents of the area, it was reported.

Douglas Smith, 19, and Darrel Smith, 19, were charged with criminal trespass to an automobile and attempted theft and Jerry Rose, 19, who allegedly told police his name was Everett Cole, was arrested at the same time on the same charges and for allegedly obstructing justice by giving false information to authorities.

Police were notified about the three during the alleged crime, but were unable to catch them. As officers continued to search for the suspects, they were notified that someone had caught one of the men, Douglas Smith.

While he was being booked, someone called the station to report that the other two were standing by a car next to the main office at Lee Wright Homes. Police arrived and found Darrel Smith and Rose standing next to Smith's auto, it was reported.

The two were arrested and between that time and when the car was towed it was reported that the battery and four hubcaps were stolen from Smith's vehicle. The windshield was cracked and the trunk lock punched, authorities reported.

When the tow truck arrived, the driver called police because the car was on fire, reports said.

SUUE closing for holiday

Most buildings on the campus of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville will be closed Saturday through Monday, Sept. 4-6, in observance of the Labor Day holiday. Textbook Services will be open Saturday from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m.

In addition, most university buildings will be closed on Saturdays and Sundays during the remainder of September because of the break between summer and fall quarters. Some buildings will remain open on a limited basis to accommodate scheduled activities. Due to registration requirements for fall quarter, special hours will be observed by several offices at various times during the month.

For information about building closings and special hours, interested persons may contact the University Information Center at 1-892-2729.

Normal campus operations will resume with the opening of fall quarter, Monday, Sept. 27, at 7 a.m.

FACES FELONIES

Gerald Moss of Madison still faces two felony charges for unlawful restraint, stemming from an incident with Madison Police Chief Donald Bridick.

The Press-Record erroneously reported that Moss faces only city misdemeanor counts after a Madison County grand jury recently returned a no true bill on two other counts. Actually, Moss also faces state misdemeanor charges, not city charges.

PELLETS STRIKE CAR

Two holes were shot into the windshield of Shirley Shostand's auto as she was driving in the 800 block of McCambridge Avenue in Madison Monday at 6:45 p.m.

RONALD W. YOUNG, a 1981 graduate of Granite City High School North and the son of Nora Young, 5141 Old Alton Road, has completed basic training at Ft. McClellan, Ala., and now is receiving technical training at Ft. Gordon, Ga., for a communications career.

Media law seminar set Sept. 17

Problems with media coverage of celebrated trials, pre-trial motions affecting news media, and cameras in the courtroom will be topics of a media-law seminar in Carbondale on Friday, Sept. 17.

The seminar is sponsored by the Fair Trial-Free Press Committee of the Illinois State Bar Association in conjunction with the dedication of the Hiram H. Leshar Law Building at Southern Illinois University, Carbondale. Law Correspondent Fred Graham will be the luncheon speaker. Graham will summarize the current state-of-the-art in camera coverage of trials in states that allow such coverage. Judge Harold L. Jensen, who presided at the trial of Robert Parker and Judge Benjamin K. Miller, who presided at the Pontiac Prison riot trial, will discuss difficulties they experienced with media coverage and steps they took to accommodate media access. Jack C. Landau, of the Reporters Committee on Freedom of the Press will respond with the media point of view.

Another session will use a hypothetical murder case to demonstrate pre-trial motions that affect media coverage of trials.

The seminar will be held at the Law School on the SIU campus in Carbondale from 10:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. A registration fee of $6 for students and $9 for non-students will cover the cost of lunch and seminar materials. A media-law handbook will be made available to all registrants. Registrants will also be invited to attend a banquet Friday evening with U.S. Supreme Court Justice Harry A. Blackmun at the honored guest. Tickets for the banquet are $15.

BREAK-IN AT VENICE STORE

About $600 was stolen in a burglary at the Venice Bi-Rite store, 420 Broadway, reported during the weekend. Entry was gained by throwing a brick through a window and a drawer was pried open to gain access to the money.

Garage sales to benefit MS fight

The St. Louis Area Chapter of the National Multiple Sclerosis Society began its fund-raising Clean Sweep campaign this week. The campaign will run through Sept. 30.

Balloons, brooms and buttons will symbolize the community campaign. By conducting garage sales for MS during September, participants throughout the greater St. Louis area will become part of the first "MS Clean Sweep," which is to be an annual event.

The fund-raising event will give residents a chance to conduct their own fall clean-up and help those with MS at the same time.

Clean Sweep is being sponsored by Kroger, Like Cola and KMOX-FM. Participants will be sent everything they need to conduct a successful garage sale for MS, including balloons, buttons, price stickers, yard posters and more. As a reward for their efforts, participants will be eligible for special recognition awards, including a trip for two to Tan Tar-A, a microwave oven and invitations to the Clean Sweep Celebrity Awards Brunch.

Interested persons may register by calling the Clean Sweep Hotline, 1-314-241-8299.

Proceeds from Clean Sweep sales will support research, clinics, counseling and vitally-needed medical equipment for persons afflicted with Multiple Sclerosis, the most common neurological disease among young adults.

Doll House Show set for Oct. 3

A Doll House Show, to benefit Hospice in Madison County, will be presented to the public from 1 to 5 p.m. on Sunday, Oct. 3, at the Harold Brown Recreation Center, Franklin and Ames avenues.

The show is under the direction of Mrs. Judy Stille, who will display finished doll houses and will also give an instruction session on constructing the doll house kits.

Area residents who have doll houses or doll house rooms they wish to exhibit are advised to call Mrs. Stille at Toys 'N Bottoms, 878-7892. Admission to the show will be $2.50 for adults and $1 for children with the proceeds to be donated to Hospice.

New modular classrooms for Lutheran High School

While the summer was months of vacation and relaxation for the students, the same wasn't true for many Metro-East Lutheran High School parents and high school supporters.

First came the need for additional classrooms, due to an expected enrollment for 1982-83 in excess of 140 students, a 26 percent increase over last year's student population. The need was met by locating and purchasing modular classroom units from the Kirkwood School District.

"That was the easy part," a spokesman said.

"Next came the literally thousands of work hours spent disassembling the massive structures, moving them some 40 miles, and then reassembling them piece by piece. Along the way came also the pouring of a concrete slab to serve as the unit's foundation, plumbing, wiring, and landscaping the construction site.

"The project commanded the respect from all who witnessed the progress and who in the end will benefit from the tremendous display of 'volunteerism.'"

"A pleasant by-product of the project will be the financial savings felt by the MELHS Association. In a crucial time for the young association financially, this estimated $75,000 undertaking will cost the Association some $15,000. On the site will be another permanent structure finished in the same stucco exterior as the main building, two large air conditioned classrooms with restroom facilities, a much-needed storage area housed between the twin units, and personal satisfaction of knowing a challenge was presented and met with God's help and guidance," the spokesman concluded.

STEAL COOKER
An outdoor barbecue cooker on wheels was stolen from the home of the Rev. Tom Succarotte, 416 Ewing Ave., Madison, he reported at 7:45 a.m. this week.

Shower fetes Mrs. Olson

Mrs. James "Pat" (Coleen) Olson of 2157 Robert Ave., was honored at a surprise baby shower at the Collinsville Holiday Inn, last week.

The social event was hosted by Mrs. Sharon Riggins, sister of the honoree, Mrs. Karen Gray, mother, Mrs. Glenna Olson, mother-in-law, and Mrs. Pauline Mitchell, grandmother.

A buffet dinner was served and games were played with winners receiving prizes. Those attending included Lynette King, Norma Thompson of Edwardsville, Kim Cavanaugh, Sharon and Melissa Delgado, Verna Wilkinson, Sue Bury, Ann Riggins, Alma Walk, Mildred Adams, Edna Cook, Evelyn Clapp, Lynda, Patty and Jamie Leggett, Opel Floyd, Patty Barker, Cathi Barker and Helen Gages.

Kendall Lucas

Bieker-Lucas

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Lucas, 3804 John Glen Drive, are announcing the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Kendall Lucas, to Anthony Bieker, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Bieker of Golden Eagle, Ill.

The bride-elect is a 1978 graduate of Granite City High School South and is employed at Missouri Lutheran Synod in St. Louis. A 1975 graduate of Granite City High School South, the prospective groom is currently working as a roofer through a St. Louis union.

The betrothed couple and their families are completing plans for a Oct. 2 wedding to take place at the Word of Life Tabernacle in Granite City.

Shower honors bride-elect

Miss Shelly Opich, an October bride-to-be, was honored with a bridal shower last week in the parish hall of Sacred Heart Polish National Catholic Church in Madison. She will become the bride of Phillip Humphrey on Oct. 9.

The shower was hosted by her aunts, Mrs. Ann Bieniecki and Mrs. Angie Macios and her mother, Mrs. Connie Simpson. Assisting the hostesses was her aunt, Mrs. Essie Macios, and her cousins, Mrs. Gloria Schuman, Mrs. Patti Bieniecki, Mrs. Christie Macios, Mrs. Janis Labanosky, Misses Laney and Leah Schuman and Misses Dawn and Crissy Bieniecki.

Deep apricot streamers decorated the hall with white wedding bells suspended over the buffet table and white umbrellas over the gift table. The gift table was centered with two lace parasols adorned with rust and apricot flowers and ribbons. A surprise to the future bride, the Barbie Doll she played with as a child, dressed in an ivory lace wedding gown and veil, also centered the gift table.

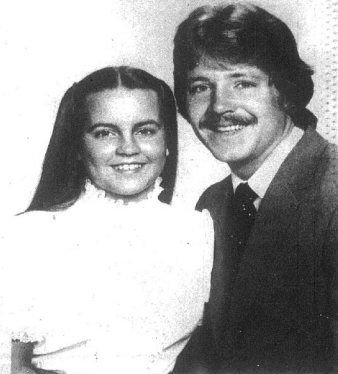

An arrangement of silk fall flowers centered the buffet table. Silk flower bouquets of rust, apricot and peach hues and carnations adorned the guest tables. White, lacey, mint-filled flower containers decorated with apricot ribbon bows and gold rings were the favors.

Corsages of ivory, rust and apricot silk roses were presented to the future bride and her bridesmaids.

Miss Opich was assisted in opening her gifts by her bridesmaids, Miss Shari Christ, Mrs. Patti Verdu, the prospective groom's sister, Miss Shelia Hicks and Mrs. Nancy Opich, her sister-in-law.

Prizes were given to those whose names were drawn from a wicker basket by the bride-elect. Guests whose favors held two gold rings or one silver ring were awarded special prizes.

A buffet luncheon was served to Mrs. Joyce Carich, mother of the future groom, and 57 guests.

Beverly Jan Tester and Thomas Nance

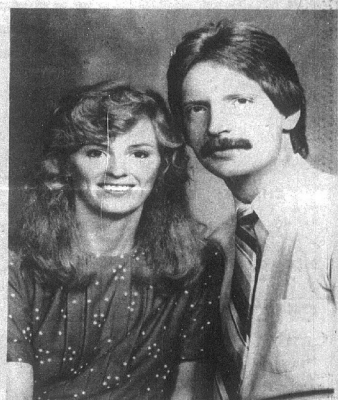

Nance-Tester

The betrothal of Miss Beverly Jan Tester and Thomas D. Nance is being announced by the bride-to-be's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joel Tester, 4028 Vesel Ave. Parents of the prospective groom, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Mitchell, reside at 3701 Johnson Road.

Miss Tester graduated this year from Granite City High School North and is enrolled at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville where she will major in computer science.

Her fiancé is attending Belleville Area College where he is majoring in Business Administration. He is a 1980 graduate of North High School.

Wedding plans are indefinite at the present time.

Lynn Reinhardt and Patrick Bury

Reinhardt-Bury

Announcement is being made of the engagement of Miss Lynn Marie Reinhardt and Patrick G. Bury, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmo Bury, 101 Rivera Drive, by the bride-elect's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Milton Reinhardt, 1512 Lindell Blvd.

Miss Reinhardt is employed by the Internal Revenue Service and the prospective groom works at I.B.M. Corp., in St. Louis. Plans for a September wedding are being completed by the engaged couple and their families.

Card club marks 47th year

A group of women who organized a social club in 1935 to be known as the 39'ers Pinocchio Club have continued to meet each month and this year are hosting four celebrations marking the 47th anniversary of the club.

The current members met at the Edwardsville Holiday Inn for a noon luncheon and afternoon of card games, last week. Special tallies commemorating the event were handmade by Evelyn Thompson.

During the afternoon the 91st birthday of Mrs. Emma Elmore was observed and she was presented with several gifts.

Special invitations were sent to former members to attend the reunion party. They included Evelyn Zeller of California, Mary Gray, Florida, Ruth Weston of Murray, Ky., Louise Mull and Louise Kovar of Granite City. Due to illness, Mercedes Grimm was unable to attend.

Those excelling in the games and winning prizes were Ruth Squires, Lola Limberg, Lola Torrence, Louise Mull and Evelyn Thompson. Also present were Millie Sherman, Ruth Bauer, Nancy Barnes, Myrtle Poole, Bernice

The wedding of Miss JoAnn Lee Fox and Thomas A. Lewis was solemnized on July 10 at the Community Heights Assembly of God Church.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. James W. Fox, 2620 Center St. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald A. Lewis, 2127 Missouri Ave.

The Rev. Jeff Smith officiated at the 2 o'clock afternoon double ring ceremony. Organist Paul Lewis and Pianist Mark Cox accompanied Kelly Stotz as he sang "The Lord's Prayer." Other selections included, "You Light Up My Life," "You Needed Me," "Wedding Song," "Annie's Song," and "Morning Has Broken."

Guests were received at a reception held in the Community Christian Center immediately following the service.

For her wedding, the bride chose a full length white Chantilly lace and organza gown fashioned with a fitted bodice, Queen Anne neckline and full lace sleeves.

The skirt was designed with triple tier flounces at the hemline which extended into a chapel length train. She wore a semi-bridal hat, created in lace and pearls, to secure her fingertip veil and she carried a bouquet of white roses, yellow roses and baby's breath.

Kay Lawrence served as maid of honor and Jamie Moniz, a niece of the bride, and Robyn Martin were bridesmaids.

They were gowned alike in yellow floor length lace dresses featuring high necklines, sleeveless bodices and full skirts. Each attendant held a cluster of long stem yellow roses.

Kerri Smith was the flower girl and Jeff Barnhardt, served as the ring bearer. Krissy Smith presided over the guest book.

The groom chose Lloyd Blumenstock as best man. Ed Patterson, Ed Christ, Greg and David Lewis, brothers of the groom, Richard Lawrence and Mike Ostresh, completed the corps of groomsmen and ushers.

Candlelighters were Jennifer Moniz, a niece of the bride and Tim Patterson. The bride is a 1981 graduate of Gateway Christian Academy and the groom was graduated this year from Granite City High School. While in school he was a member of the Vocational Industrial Club of America. He is presently employed at Kentucky Colonial.

Out of town guests included Greg Lewis of New Orleans, La., and aunts of the bride, Juanita Silvis and Jean Sherrill both of Oklahoma City, Okla., and Louise Bickford of Ardmore, Okla.

Club changes date of Black Cat dance

The Madison City Democrat Club members agreed to change the date of the Black Cat dance from Oct. 1 to Oct. 15, during a meeting held at the Madison Recreation Center.

President Zella Niehaus announced the fund raising project will be held at the Croatian Home and those who have sold tickets are to contact the purchasers to change the date of the affair.

In conjunction with the date Mrs. Winnie Saak, advertising book chairman, gave a progress report and Judy Donaldson, ticket chairman, said she still has tickets available for sale.

Members voted to sponsor an additional project this year by having an Arts and Crafts show at the Madison Lions Club, 10th Street and Madison Avenue, on Oct. 30 and 31, from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. each day.

Tables will be available for displays and exhibits at a cost of $10 each day and

Mr. and Mrs. Mark Fry

Fry-Cionko

Miss Elita L. Cionko, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis F. Cionko, 17 Terrace Lane, became the bride of Mark L. Fry, of Wichita, Kan., on July 31 at the First Assembly of God Church.

Parents of the groom, Mr. and Mrs. John L. Fry, reside at 1656 Fry Lane, St. Louis. The Rev. C. Dale Edwards officiated at the 6 o'clock evening ceremony. A program of nuptial music was provided by Dotti Edwards at the organ, Audrey Cormier, pianist and Steve Yearly, soloist.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a full length white chiffon old fashioned style gown featuring a Queen Anne neckline and fitted bodice, accented with Chantilly lace. Lace motifs were repeated on the long sheer sleeves and created an apron effect on the A-line skirt.

A lace camelot hat secured her fingertip veil of bridal illusion.

Maid of honor was Lisa Fry, a sister of the groom, and the bridesmaids included, Pam Brokman and Susan McRaven. Debra Manzo and Jamie Ralls, nieces of the bride, served as junior bridesmaid and flower girl.

They were gowned alike in rainbow color chiffon A-line dresses designed with blouson bodices, draped necklines and softly flowing skirts.

The groom chose Louis Cionko, a brother of the bride, as best man, Rob Rolf and Jay Jones, were groomsmen. Ricky Chalcraft, a cousin of the groom, was the junior groomsman and Brett Downs, a nephew of the bride, was the ring bearer. Seating the guests were Charles Downs, the bride's brother-in-law, and Brian McIntosh.

After the ceremony guests were received at a reception held at the Flaming Pit Banquet Center in St. Louis. The bride was graduated from Granite City High School South in 1979 and from Eastern Illinois University this year, where she received a B.S. degree in Business with an accounting major.

A 1978 graduate of Hazelwood East High School, the groom also graduated from the University of Missouri at Rolla this year. He earned a B.S. Degree in Engineering with a electrical engineering major and now is employed at Boeing Military Aircraft. Following a wedding trip to Tan Tar A in the Lake of the Ozarks the newlywed couple is now residing in Wichita, Kan.

Troop 7 holds court of honor

Boy Scout Troop 7, sponsored by St. Joseph Catholic Church, held a court of honor to officially recognize scouts who earned merit badges and advanced to a higher rank in scouting, during the weekend at the church.

First Class Scout Greg Hagen was in charge of the summer program which also featured craft demonstrations and campfire skills performed by the troop members.

Assistant Scoutmaster Larry Williamson Sr. awarded merit badge certificates to Steve Kumerczak Jr., athletics, Greg Hagen and Joe Kumerczak camping, Kevin Williamson, communications and firemanship, Joe Kumerczak, hiking and Greg Hagen, pets. All members of the Troop's Leadership Corps have now earned the firemanship merit badge, it was announced.

Advancement awards certificates (Life Scout Certificates) were presented to Mark Brazel and Kevin Williamson who were given miniature life scout pins by their mothers and in turn the scouts presented pins to their mothers.

After the ceremonial refreshments were served.

ELECTRONIC BAND

AT TROTTERING DERBY
Southern Illinois University in Carbondale's Marching Salukis will premiere a new sound Saturday when they entertain spectators during the DuQuoin State Fair's World Trotting Derby. The tuxedo-clad band will unveil an expanded version of the electronic keyboard and amplifier system that it used last year for the first time.

Drum major is Craig Ryteraki of 2501 Cleveland Blvd., Granite City, a senior in music. The Marching Salukis are scheduled to perform twice in St. Louis this year: Thursday, Sept. 9, for the Knights of the Cauliflower Ear dinner at Grant's Farm, and Sunday, Sept. 19, for the Big Red-Dallas Cowboys football game.

MISS SUMMERTIME: Christina Grooms, 10, daughter of Larry and Linda Grooms of Granite City, who won the Miss Summertime 1982 title in the 10-12 age group during the weekend in Hartford. She captured first place in beauty, talent, dress and photogenic and took overall high point honors. Earlier this summer, she was crowned grand model over all age divisions in the State Stars of Tomorrow Pageant in Peoria.

Local Girl Scout studies early western customs Cheryl Lenzi, of Granite City, from River Bluffs Girl Scout Council was selected by Girl Scouts of the U.S.A. to attend Buckskins and Calico, this month. This national event, for 36 girls, was held at Girl Scout National Center West, a 14,000 acre site bordered by the Big Horn National Forest near Ten Sleep, Wyo.

Girl Scouts from all over the United States were selected to participate in this two-week event which included learning about the lives of our early western pioneers and practicing the skills and customs of their everyday life. The participants also explored the canyons, caves, streams and mesas on hikes, horseback rides and backpacking trips. Each participant had the opportunity to cook authentic old west meals and practice the arts and crafts of the pioneers. Visiting with local "old timers" helped to bring the past to life.

While at NCW they hiked to "The Vee," where two canyons came together. One evening Golden Allred came and talked to the girls about trapping and how NCW was begun. They also hiked to Pow Wow—a big canyon wall, like a cave, and saw original Indian paintings on the wall—this was approximately a seven and a half mile hike from camp there and back. The scouts also went panning for gold in the streams and saw several slides of NCW.

At the beginning of the first week the scouts went horseback riding. As an extra added attraction they were taken to Cody, Wyo., by bus to see the Buffalo Bill museum and visited a restored town, saw a mock firefight and visited Irma's Cafe, which was Buffalo Bill's residence when he visited Cody. While in Cody an Indian named Horse Capture talked to the group about how the Indian traditions had changed over the years.

On the return to camp the next day the scouts made soap and lanterns and counted cross stiles. The next trip was to an older lady's museum. Her name was Wynona Pyle and she did many antiques.

The next project on the agenda was to do a debate on fruit (apples, bananas and peaches). Eleven girls out of the 36 went on a 3-day backpacking trip and the rest of the summer group made STREAM STOMPING in very cold mountain stream water of Ten Sleep, Wyo., is Cheryl Lenzi a Granite City Girl Scout. She is with other Girl Scouts, from throughout the country, selected to attend the Buckskins and Calico program. plum jam and grape jelly, pictographs rocks and sand paintings. They also participated in singing and some aerobic, folk and square dancing.

On Tuesday, before they departed for home, they went on a 5-mile hike to Wilk's Cabin. Mr. Wilk was a miner and during the depression it is believed he was a bootlegger and that his sons stole cars. There is one car still on the property that is believed to be one of the many stolen cars.

There were many other events the group took part in, such as blacken an old stove, make candles, repair and build a rock wall, cleaned out a root cellar, ate elk, antelope and cactus, practiced archery, carding, held birthday parties, "Pooch" parties and went to a rodeo in Ten Sleep. As in all Girl Scout events a "program" was held each day beginning with a flag ceremony and the details were laid out for the days events. The scouts did have some free time to get acquainted with new friends. They worked in patrols of nine girls in each patrol and did "rough it" by doing their own cooking and cleaning up everyday.

At National Center West, with the flavor of the old west surrounding them, the participants experienced the fun of making new friends from far away places. Participants lived in tents and did all their own cooking during their two week stay. Cheryl is the daughter of Ed and Beverly Lenzi of 327 Aubrey Ave. She is a sophomore at Granite City High School South this year and is also a member of St. Margaret Mary Catholic Church. She has been in Girl Scouts for 10 years. While in the Cadette program, Cheryl went with her troop on two extended trips, one to Savannah, Ga., to visit the home of Juliette Low last year and this year they toured Chicago for one week. The troop is very active in doing a lot of camping. She is a First Class Girl Scout and a member of Senior Troop 822, led by Mrs. Diana Kinder.

MAKING CANDLES at an outdoor site at the Girl Scout National Center West in Ten Sleep, Wyo., is Cheryl Lenzi of Granite City. The craft session was in conjunction with a program to practice skills and customs of every day life of early western pioneers during a two week campout under rugged conditions.

Mrs. Robert Ferry
Ferry-Cavins

An out of town wedding of interest here was that of Miss Shari Lynne Cavins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul L. Cavins, 611 N. Main, Bend, Ill., former Granite City residents, and Robert Daniel Ferry, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack W. Ferry, 7 Meadowlark Drive, Bend, on July 17 at the Bend United Methodist Church. The Rev. E. Arthur Hurrey officiated at the 6:30 evening ceremony. Organist Mrs. Rachael DeMartini accompanied Miss Shirley Ferry, Miss Debby Mansolf and Miss Opal Hagan as they sang several wedding selections. Guests were received by the newlywed couple, at a reception held at the Bend Civic Center, immediately following the service.

Attending the bride was her sister, Becky Cavins as maid of honor and Jeanne Franke and Annette Smith, as bridesmaids. Cyndy Cavins, a niece of the bride, and Tony Con-tratto served as the flower girl and ring bearer, respectively.

The groom chose his brother, Jack Ferry Jr., as best man. Ken Petrelli, Richard Cavins, a brother of the bride, Larry Osborn and Frank Simmons, completed the corps of groomsmen and ushers.

Both young people graduated from Gillespie High School. The groom enlisted in the U.S. Navy in August 1980 and is currently stationed on the USS Fairfax County in Newport News, Va.

They are residing at 650 Leicester Ave., Norfolk, Va.

New owners of Flash Cube

Jane Hicks and Addie Corbett are the new owners of The Flash Cube, a photofinishing news-tobacco stand at 3260 Nameoki Road. The Flash Cube, typically housed in a 6-foot by 10-foot booth in a small shopping center, conveniently combines three types of retail operation: photofinishing, newsstand and tobacco.

"Photofinishing will always be our primary business, but we've added other services to differentiate ourselves from the competition," Hicks said. The broadened product line also includes daily newspapers, about 70 current magazines and a complete selection of cigarette brands.

"As it matures, The Flash Cube may add other services, such as tickets sales to sporting and concert events," explained Addie Corbett.

Cobb-Komadina

Miss Betty Ann Komadina, daughter of Alois Komadina of Granite City, and the late Mrs. Peggy Harris Komadina, became the bride of Charles N. Cobb on July 30 at Unity Church in Albuquerque, N.M. The Rev. Viola Williamson officiated at the evening ceremony.

Parents of the groom are Mrs. Billie Nodine of Albuquerque, and Louis Cobb of Walnut Ridge, Ark. A 1977 graduate of Granite City High School South, the former Miss Komadina also attended Belleville Area College. She is currently employed at National Credit Management Co. in St. Louis. The groom was graduated from South High School in 1975 and is working for the Norfolk and Western Railroad. They are now residing in Granite City.

Venice student in ROTC course

DeWanda A. Crochrell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Andy H. (Eva J.) Crochrell, 81 Weaver St., Venice, has completed practical work in military leadership at the U.S. Army ROTC advance camp at Fort Riley, Kan.

She is a student at Southern Illinois University at Carbondale.

The six-week training included instruction in first aid, communications, marksmanship, orienteering, weapons systems, defensive and offensive tactics, reconnaissance techniques and other areas.

Most ROTC cadets fulfill their advanced camp requirement during the summer between the junior and senior year in college, an Army spokesman noted.

Successful completion of the advanced camp and graduation from their respective college or university results in the student being commissioned a second lieutenant in the active Army or the U.S. Army Reserve or National Guard.

That huge harvest — where to put it

By CHARLYN FARGO

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. — Farmers aren't the only ones having problems of how to deal with an expected huge grain crop this year. Officials of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service (ASCS) are puzzled over what to do about the grain and low prices. They're facing a big problem because many farmers took Commodity Credit Corp. (CCC) nine-month loans on the 1981 reserve. Under the program, farmers are allowed to pledge grain as collateral for the loan. If current prices are below the loan price, farmers can give their commodity to the government after the nine months are up. "This is our problem," said Joe Owens, price support specialist for the state ASCS. "We have a grain storage shortage in the state." That shortage is compounded by upwards of 20 million bushels of corn that will be released by farmers in the next three months. Farmers can't keep it any longer because they need a place to store this year's harvest. The ASCS has to find a place to store the corn since, by law, the government cannot sell forfeited corn until a certain price is reached (or unless the grain is damaged). The purpose of the program is to keep grain off the market when prices are depressed.

However, Illinois is in better shape than Minnesota, which has a potential storage shortage of 100 million bushels, and Iowa, whose shortage is 50 million bushels. Why didn't ASCS officials become aware of the situation earlier? In July, officials say, prices were considerably higher, meaning farmers were more likely to sell their crops. And that month's corn crop estimate was 7.6 billion bushels, 700,000 bushels short of the August prediction of 8.3 billion bushels. In June, said Owen, "We thought we might have had too much space." Said Merle Marxman of the CCC in Washington: "We don't have the answers. We do have a bigger problem than we originally thought." State Agriculture Director Larry Werries said ASCS officials might have to look at bending storage requirements or consider storing grain in empty barges or railroad cars.

That would be welcome news to transportation officials, whose industry is in a slump.

Bob Goodman of the American Barge Association in St. Louis said considerable equipment is available for storage use. Railroad officials also say they have 36,000 to 44,000 50-foot boxcars. "We're anxious for the business and willing to cooperate," one railroad official said.

Fined $530 in court appearance

In a court appearance at 3:20 p.m. Monday, Don B. Shannon, 19, of 2233 Washington Ave., pleaded guilty to state charges of driving under the influence of alcohol, speeding and not having a valid driver's license and city charges of illegal transportation of alcohol and being a minor in possession of alcohol. He was fined a total of $530 and was released. Officers operating radar, who arrested Shannon during the weekend, said his vehicle was traveling at a high rate of speed on East 20th at Quincy when the car struck the median at Nash Street and East 20th to avoid hitting a vehicle halted at the pedestrian crossing light. The motorist allegedly weaved in and out of traffic with the officer in pursuit and was stopped at Iowa and East 20th streets. An open can of beer allegedly was on the floorboard of the auto and Shannon reportedly declined to take a breath test when arrested. Urban request for an outside judge taken under advisement

By JUDY TAPLIN
Judge Paul Komada, from the Fifth Judicial District, this week took under advisement a motion for an outside judge to hear the theft and forgery case against attorney Ben Urban of Collinsville.

Komada said he would try to rule on Urban's motion within seven days, but that it might take longer. "There is not a single judge in the Third Judicial Circuit, in my opinion, who would not have some predesigned judgment that could be detrimental to my case," Urban told Komada during a hearing on the motion Monday afternoon in the Edwardsville courthouse.

Urban, 42, was indicted by a grand jury on eight counts of theft and one count of forgery for allegedly falsifying court documents to dismiss state fines for overweight trucks at the Collinsville weighing station.

Urban and his attorney, Marvin Goldenhersh of Belleville, said the judges in Madison County are only human and are bound to have been swayed by extensive pretrial publicity and "the courthouse grapevine." Goldenhersh said there was no way the most dedicated person wasn't going to be influenced by the information that was known about the case.

He said the Urban case was a "prime topic of conversation" for a long period of time and that a great deal of talk took place in the Madison County Courthouse. The talk was, in so many words, "that there was no defense for this guy," he said.

Goldenhersh said he did not think there was any way to separate judges from other persons along the grapevine. "Since my name has been in the papers with this case, I've had numerous people approach me and say, 'This is a cinch; they got this guy cold turkey,'" Goldenhersh said.

He said there has been "immense and overwhelming" information in area newspapers. The information has been treated as fact, with no opportunity for any cross-examination of the newspapers, he added.

From the witness stand, Urban cited his reasons for believing a judge from outside Madison and Bond counties should hear his case.

Associate Judge P. J. O'Neill, Associate Judge Clayton Williams and Chief Judge Joseph Barr had been involved in an independent investigation of the state bond money and dismissals.

-Bond County Judge John DeLaurenti believes Urban was involved in the smear campaign that caused DeLaurenti to lose retention in 1980. (He was later reappointed.)

-Urban had once filed a complaint against Judge William Johnson with the Illinois Judicial Review Board.

Signatures of four judges are on the allegedly falsified court document which dismissed the overweight cases.

-Urban had supported Judge John Karns of Belleville against Judge Horacio Calvo of Granite City in a past contest for an appellate judgeship.

-And, Urban was a candidate for associate judge against some associates now on the bench in Madison County.

"People, because they are human beings, don't forget these kind of things," Urban said.

Urban indicated that he might call two judges as character witnesses - Judge Philip Rarick and Barr. Rarick appears to be the only judge not listed by Urban in an affidavit accompanying the motion for an outside judge.

Judge Komada, noting this, said it might be possible to grant part of the motion and to deny part of it, apparently excluding all other judges and having Judge Rarick hear the case.

But Goldenhersh later said Rarick's name is reportedly one of those that signed dismissal orders for some of the state overweight cases.

Madison County Assistant State's Attorney Bob Trone, who sought to have the motion for an outside judge denied, said the motion was "a blanket attempt to bar every judge in the county from hearing the case on the basis of pretrial publicity." He called the defense argument "ridiculous."

Goldenhersh said case law supports his contention that it is taboo for a judge to obtain information about a case outside the courtroom.

DON'T BE BURGLARY VICTIM Safeguard your home now

By BILL PARRY
"Don't try to be a hero," the former police inspector said.

"If you find a thief in your house, don't confront him. I can't stress that enough."

"He's in a state of panic.
He thinks if he stabs you that will take care of his problem."

That is the studied advice from Robert A. Hair, a security consultant and a retired deputy inspector with the New York Police Department, who has seen his share of stab victims.

"Crime is increasing and there are fewer policemen than ever," the white-haired former police officer said. "So this is a problem every homeowner should be thinking about."
But nobody does anything about it until after their own place is broken into."

Nationwide, a burglary is committed every 13 seconds by a thief who gains entry via an unlocked door or window or breaks an inadequate lock. The Federal Bureau of Investigation says home burglaries, most of which happen during daylight hours, increased 14 percent in 1980 alone and the big majority were committed by thieves who waded money in a hurry.

So they took items they could sell easily — cameras, television sets, stereo, jewelry and coins.

There are piles of statistics to show that it pays to protect your home against the rising tide of residential burglaries because, as Hair says, "your chances of being a burglary victim are very good and getting better. But no one does anything until it is too late."

Hair suggested barriers that will slow down or discourage thieves as a common sense approach to home security. "Not everyone can afford a complicated, expensive electronic system," said Hair in an interview. Then he quoted an old saying — "Let no one be a thief with me as a helper."

Hair said there are five basic barriers. "Delay time is important — every second you delay him helps your chances."

- Physical — locks, fences.
- Animal — dogs.
- Energy — lights,
alarms, telephone.
- Natural barrier — a house on a mountain top.
- Human — a security guard.

But Hair called the telephone the first line of defense. "Don't try to be a hero," Hair repeated. Pick up the telephone and call the police or sheriff. Don't waste any time trying to
suspect or frighten him off.
Call for help by the professionals.

"The criminals are making prisoners out of us because we refuse to pick up the telephone and report suspicious circumstances," Hair said.

The former inspector said the "Neighborhood Watch" has become one of the most successful crime deterrents in the last few years. "And the whole program is observing what's going on in your neighborhood and then using the telephone to call the authorities."

Steelers defeat Gateway East rivals Cahokia, 2-0

TEAMWORK. Although the Granite City North soccer team is expected by coach Bob Kehoe to show improvement in its team effort, Tim Dean, with the ball, and Derek Merz, background, gave Kehoe and Steeler fans a taste of what working together can do. Merz scored the first goal of the 2-0 win over Cahokia last night off a cross by Dean who got the assist. The Steelers play their first home game Saturday against Belleville Althoff with the junior varsity game starting at 10:30 a.m. (Press-Record Photo by Roger Kramer)

By NANCY WEIL
of the Press-Record

CAHOKIA — Three games into the season, Granite City North soccer coach, Bob Kehoe, is positive about one thing: "they still have not yet reached their potential," he said about the Steelers after their 2-0 victory over the Comanches last night.

Although North dominated much of the game, there is still a good amount of untapped ability that Kehoe believes will emerge as the season progresses. After the 5-1 loss to Quincy Saturday, things looked dismal and Kehoe could not help but refer to that game. With Tuesday night's 2-0 win over Edwardsville and last night's victory, he was able to grant the Steelers a little time.

The "individual effort" was evident, but Kehoe is still looking for the team to pull together. "I guess it takes a little time," he said.

Against Cahokia, the Steelers displayed some adept ball-handling skills, but at times the passing game was off as if there was not enough thought about where the ball was being sent.

"Players lose sight of the fact that the reason there are 10 players on the field is that there is this vast amount of ground to cover," Kehoe said and waved his right arm in a sweeping gesture toward the empty field.

The Steelers, however, had "sight" enough during the game to put in two goals and Kehoe said the passing game has shown improvement since Saturday.

North came onto the field and immediately dominated the first quarter. About five minutes into the game, Derek Merz scored on a cross from Tim Dean. Merz moved into good position on the left side of the goal area and shot past the Comanche goalkeeper, Rick Pearce.

"Players lose sight of the fact that the reason there are 10 field players on the field is that there is a vast amount of ground to cover."

Bob Kehoe

Steeler soccer coach

During the second quarter, Cahokia had a prime opportunity to score when a tripping penalty was called against North in the goal area. But forward, Joe Mitran, the Comanche's dominating player on offense, shot wide to the left.

North regained possession and Brian Levin, late in the quarter, had an open goal shot, but hit the ball hit the left goal post.

But Keith Glasgow recovered the ball and scored unassisted on one of those shots that takes the breath away. About 25 yards out, almost directly center, Glasgow shot into the left side of the net straight past the goalkeeper to put the score at 2-0.

Cahokia played a much fiercer game through the final two quarters and Mitran had an open shot in the third quarter, but again it went wide.

Twice in the final quarter, North had excellent opportunities to score: once with a group of players bunched in front of the Cahokia goal the ball got loose, but a defender got to it first; and again on a breakaway by Dean, but he lost the ball.

That problem always exists when a player chooses to dribble rather than pass or shoot, Kehoe said. He was not referring specifically to Dean's breakaway because there is, of course, not an option to pass (unless it's backwards) on a breakaway. But Kehoe generally feels the team could improve in its passing game.

"No one is faster than the ball. Players dribble too much. It slows down the game," he said.

The problem of holding onto the ball too long probably started long ago for most players, he said. Wanting to play well "and call attention to himself" is one factor. But the largest reason players dribble and try to control the ball alone, he said, is conditioning at a very young age.

"When they're young there's always one guy who's a little better, a little further along. The coach puts too much emphasis on winning when they're little," Kehoe picked created a player, "Joe" to finish his example.

When players are young, he said, with so much emphasis on winning, coaches will often say, "Just give the ball to Joe, let Joe do it."

During a player's formative years, he falls into the bad habit of keeping the ball. "Before he gets to a guy like me," he's already formed a habit which takes a long time to break, Kehoe said.

Despite problems North is having at present, Kehoe was confident they would come around as the season continues. And, the defense played better last night with goalkeeper Rick Branding playing very well.

"He's a real student of the game," Kehoe said. "It's a shame we had that bad game against Quincy. But like any goalie in hockey or soccer, he's only as good as his defense."

Against Edwardsville, Benny Nolin scored both goals. The first was in the last minute of the second quarter on a throw in from Levin. The second goal was unassisted.

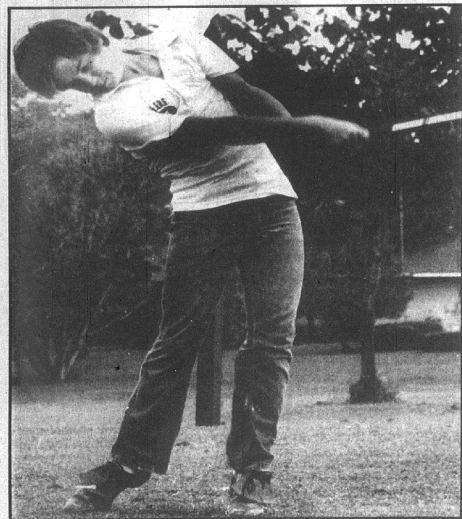

North's first home game is Saturday at 10:30 a.m. against Belleville Althoff. The junior varsity will play first.

Warriors edge Steelers clubmen in golf rematch

AN EARLY STROKE. Bill Early of Granite City High School North finished Tuesday's competition at Arlington Golf Course with a 40, the best score of any Steeler. Despite Early's efforts the Steelers fell short of visiting Highland and Granite City South.

By ALAN L. GERSTENECKER

GRANITE CITY The golfing Warriors of Granite City High School South avenged a loss of just four days earlier as they defeated cross town rival Granite City North by 14 strokes in a triangular match Tuesday afternoon at Arlington Golf Course. The third team, Highland, won the event nine strokes under the Warriors.

Last Friday, at Highland Country Club, the Bulldogs defeated both North and South as they posted a team score of 155. The Steelers finished second with 175, followed by South with a 182.

Tuesday afternoon, however, in a rain-delayed match, the outcome was similar in that Highland won that match, but different in that South finished stronger than North. Highland posted a 156, only a stroke off their winning performance of last week while South shot a 165, an improvement of 17 strokes over last week's tally. The Steelers, finished the match with a 179, or four strokes behind their performance in Highland.

Although Highland's and North's performances Tuesday are consistent with each team's scores of last Friday, South improved nearly 10 percent over their performance of last week.

"We played very well," said Dwayne "Boone" Chaney, Warrior golf coach.

Granite South
Warriors

"I think one reason we improved so was because we played at home. My kids know this course." Another reason Chaney cited for his team's improved play was due to the Warriors more relaxed attitude on the course.

"Last week, when we played Highland at home, it was our first match of the season. I think my kids were a little nervous. But I think they've overcome that now."

Chaney displayed a notable tone of satisfaction in his team's improvement, but he's hopeful yet of even a greater things.

"We did exceptionally well, but our goal is to drop our team total to 160. If we can do that we should be able to play with almost anybody," Chaney said.

In high school golf competition, each team fields a total of eight golfers. Only half, however, of those golfers' scores are figure in with their team scores — the best four. The other four lower scores are disregarded. Often those four "starters" are the same from match to match. But sometimes, as in Tuesday's match, some golfers rise to the occasion as did Dave Warfield and Steve Crow of North to figure in with the Steelers' team score. Other golfers scoring for North were Bill Early, Dave Goff and Frank Hayes. Hayes, Warfield and Crow each scored a 47 on the par 36 course.

For the Warriors, Ken Rapp, Randy Thurman, Jeff Pare and John Tackett each combined for South's 165 team total.

Tigers down North spikers

EDWARDSVILLE — The Granite City High School North volleyball team lost to the Edwardsville Tigers Wednesday in the team's season opener. Both the varsity and jayvee teams fell subject to the Tigers.

In junior varsity action, the Steelers dropped the first game 15-11, won the second game 15-13 and fell in the deciding game 15-13 as the Tigers took the series.

In varsity action, the Lady Steelers were winless against their Edwardsville hosts as they dropped the first game 15-9, and the second game 15-13. Despite the loss, Steeler coach Paula Wise was encouraged by her team's performance.

"I was very pleased with the girls. I think our spiking was even better than Edwardsville's, but we're still going to need to practice our serves and receiving serves," Ms. Wise said.

Rename the Bronze Boot?

Mr. Earl Lazerson, President
Office of the President, Room 3316
John Riedman Office Bldg.
Southwestern Illinois St. at Edwardsville
Edwardsville, Illinois

Dear Earl:

I have talked about the subject of the Bronze Boot soccer game and its location with school's athletic director, Ed Bigham, to his superior, Dr. James Buck. And, if my memory doesn't fail me, to you. Furthermore, prior to that, I've had heated discussions with various other top personnel at the university including the Cougars' soccer coach, Bob Guelker.

The thrust of my talks in regard to the Bronze Boot game was: move it to our campus when it is our "game" . . . in order to save the $10,000 fee needed to "use" Busch Memorial Stadium. And, perhaps even more important, to bring it to SIUE's campus in order to more adequately spotlight our school's beautiful grounds and save our students the $3-plus parking fee charge.

With funds as tight as they are now, I can't see how a decision to continue staging the Bronze Boot Classic at Busch can be justified. And, further, the "split" of the "gate" . . . to SIUE, St. Louis University and the St.

Louis CYC . . . is really hard to justify any longer. And, I'm not too sure that such a split is even legal.

I firmly believe that the unstated status, or ego trip, ramifications given by some to justify its continuance at Busch Stadium no longer, if ever, were justified. The game, of course, is a natural and one which should continue to be pushed. The suggestion, or was it a trial balloon, to change its name to honor Joe Carezza would be a grave mistake. Not, of course, that Mr. Carezza, whom I admired very much, was not a great friend of soccer, he was and pardon my double negative. But, the Bronze Boot Game is now nationally recognized from

New York to California. I admired Joe Carezza greatly and loved the play of his two sons, Big John and Chris. John still holds the school's individual career scoring record and Chris wasn't far behind. It would be my suggestion that the annual game between SIUE and the Quincy College Hawks be named in his honor.

With the hope that the Cougar kickers enjoy another great season in the months ahead, I am,

Yours sincerely,
AL BARNES
Al Barnes, now retired but former SIUE Sports Information Director.

SIUE soccer Cougars down Avila

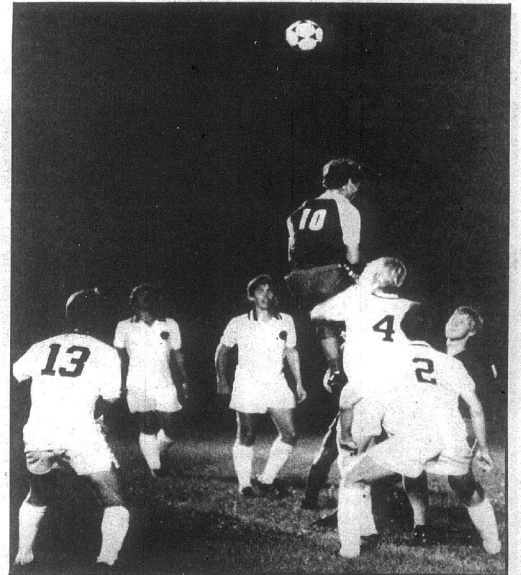

The Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville opened the soccer season Wednesday with a 2-0 victory over Avila College of Atkinson, Kansas, at Cougar Field.

The Cougar's scoring was limited to the first half. Sophomore Bill Stallings got SIUE's first goal with a 17:02 assist from Tom Groark.

The score was not indicative of the Cougar's dominance of the game. The Cougars attempted 30 shots to Avila's six shots. Most impressive of all, SIUE had 14 corner kicks to just three for Avila.

Last year, the Cougars defeated Avila 1-0 in overtime. Avila is coached by former SIUE All-American Chris Carezza.

The Cougars will be on the road for the next three games. Saturday, the Cougars will be at the University of Indiana-Evansville for a 2 p.m. game.

A HEADER. Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville's Tom Groark, 10, heads the ball away from Avila's Craig Kasten, 4. Ron Essmyer, 2, and Scott Huber, 13. The Cougars won the game, their season opener, 2-0.

SIU-Edwardsville matmen sign two grapplers

EDWARDSVILLE — Fresh from helping the United States World Games Team to the runner-up position as part of the annual international competition in Edmonton, Canada, Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville Head Coach Larry Kristoff has announced the signing of two prep state champions to letters of intent with the wrestling coach of SIUE. Chaunan Wilson, a prep student at Blue Valley High School in Kansas, and Brian McTague, an Illinois state champion from Morris High School, have become the latest additions to join the 1982-83 edition of the wrestling Cougars.

Wilson, an outstanding all-around athlete who competed in football and baseball as well as wrestled in high school, joins the Cougars after posting an impressive 31-1 record as a senior and winning the Kansas State Grand Champion competition which matches state champions from all five high school classifications into one post-season spectacular. Wilson completed his four-year high school career with a sparkling 90-10 overall record, posting 57 falls and 132 takedowns.

McTague, who won the Illinois crown after posting a 37-1 record as a senior, gives the Cougars an outstanding prospect in the 134-pound class. As a four-year member of the varsity team at Morris, McTague posted records of 27-4, 22-3, 33-7 and 37-1. He also posted a third place finish in the District Championships as a freshman, second place in both the District and Sectionals as a junior and champion of the District, Sectional and State meets in his senior campaign.

Wilson and McTague join the Cougars on the wake of their best finish in the NCAA Division II National Championships since 1976.

While extending their streak to nine consecutive years of finishing in the top six positions in the national competition, the Cougars collected third place honors last year and walked away with the bronze medal in the team competition.

The winning entry will receive a trip to Hawaii for eight people for a week. The runners-up will win a trip for eight to the bowl game involving the Illini and others will receive trips to road games, dinners and Illinois merchandise.

Hunter safety course offered

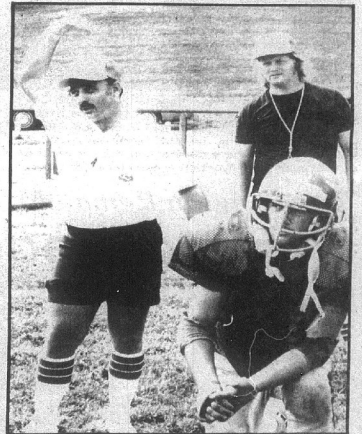

The Granite City Park District will be sponsoring a hunter's safety course as one of its fall programs.

As of July 1, 1976, no hunting licenses were issued to any person under 16 years of age unless he presented the person authorized to issue such license either evidence that he held a hunting license issued by the State of Illinois or another state in a prior year, or a certificate of competence.

The Park District will offer a course for fathers and sons in wildlife management, firearms safety, first aid, hunter ethics, and survival techniques. Illinois law requires certification for all persons under age 16.

Sessions will be Monday evenings, Sept. 20, Sept. 27, and Oct. 4 at the Harold Brown Recreation Center from 6 to 9 p.m. The classes will be taught by Lee Reed. It is compulsory that persons must attend each session in order to qualify for a completed course. All boys must be accompanied by an adult.

Participants must enroll at the Park Office. Classes will be limited to 30. Those passing the course will be awarded a certificate. Registration begins Wednesday, Aug. 25.

IN NEBRASKA. Former Quad Cityan Nick Perillo, left, signals a defensive alignment as two look on. Perillo, a Peru State College alumnus, is new to the Peru State coaching staff. He joins the Nebraska college coaching staff after leaving a similar position with the Granite City High School South football team.

'Tailgreet' this weekend

Indications are that 'Tailgreet '82 will live up to its billing as the world's greatest tailgreet party prior to the Illinois-Northwestern football game Sept. 4 at 6 p.m.

I'm really excited about the number of entries and the stories circulating around town," said Jim Pink, Tailgreet committee chairman. "I think the large, extravagant parties are great, but I want to emphasize that the judges will be looking for creativity, and big doesn't necessarily mean better."

Among the large entries expected are: a wedding, a party featuring live alligators, another with a live buffalo, one with the beer delivered by the Clydesdales and another with the meal prepared by a chef flown in from Paris.

Some of the more creative ideas include: a miniature tailgate party with a Volkswagen, small sandwiches and airline style cocktails; an old-fashioned tailgater with a paneled station wagon, potato salad and sandwiches wrapped in brown paper; and a student entry featuring bicycles, instead of cars.

The winning entry will receive a trip to Hawaii for eight people for a week. The runners-up will win a trip for eight to the bowl game involving the Illini and others will receive trips to road games, dinners and Illinois merchandise.

Comanches 'spike' Warriors

By ALAN L. GERSTENECKER

Sports Editor

GRANITE CITY — Both the varsity and the junior varsity volleyball teams at Granite City High School South dropped their season debut pairings to visiting Cahokia Wednesday evening in a steamy-hot South gymnasium.

In junior varsity action, the Comanches crushed the Warriors 15-1 in the opener, and although they played somewhat better in the second game, South still came out on the short end 15-8.

In later action, the varsity squad dropped both of its games in the best of two series to the Comanches by identical scores of 15-8.

In the first game, it was all Comanches. Cahokia jumped out to a 9-0 lead before the Lady Warriors were able to muster a point. Warrior Allison Boyd scored the first point for South as she spiked a perfect shot in the back corner. Boyd's spike was the catalyst that enabled South to score six unanswered points to move within four of the Comanches at 10-6.

The South rally, however, was their first and last as the Comanches out-scored their Granite City hosts 5-2 to secure a first game victory.

In the second game, the pumped up Warriors jumped to an early 3-0 lead, but the Comanches soon tied the game at 3 all before jumping to a 5-3 lead. South retained to tie the game at five before going up seven to five, mostly on the high jumping, quick spiking tactics of Trish Skinner and Diane Waltenberger.

South's lead was short lived, though, as Cahokia tied the game at seven before routing for seven unanswered points. The Warriors interrupted the Comanche scoring spree with a single point to make the score 14-8 before Cahokia secured their second win to sweep the series in two games.

After the game in a brief interview, Warrior coach Wilma Schulze attributed her team's loss to the 90 plus degree temperature in the gymnasium.

This weekend South travels to Carbondale to compete in the SIU Carbondale Invitational Volleyball Tournament.

Carpenters end season with 'finale'

The Granite City Carpenter Local 633 girls' junior high school softball team and Metro East Sales and Salvage women's 2A softball team held their annual picnic Sunday, Aug. 28, at Wilson Park. Players, parents, families and friends were invited to the festive event.

After losing their first two games of the season, the Carpenters finished the season in second place with a final record of nine and three. The Metro East team was not as fortunate as they finished the season with a record of four and eight. Part of the festivities at the picnic involved the issuing of individual trophies to players on both teams. Special trophies were awarded to Michelle Jones for her defensive play, Peggy Spiedel for being the most improved player, and Mary Tankley for her prowess at the plate.

Appreciation plaques were presented to coaches and sponsors of both teams.

The Carpenters local will conclude their season on Saturday after marching in the Labor Day parade at which time a softball will be signed by all players of the team and mailed to a current pen pal in Japan.

The event closed as the managers and coaches thanked the players and parents for their support during the season.

Brian Baschnagel can do the job

LAKE FOREST — His first uniform number was 47. He was going to be a cornerback, return a few kicks, be a general all-purpose player.

That's mostly what Brian Baschnagel had done at Ohio State, a little bit of everything. He was what Woody Hayes called a "wing-back," which meant he caught a few passes — and there were very few passes to catch in those days at OSU — ran the ball a little, blocked, threw an option pass or two, held for field goals and extra points and ran back kicks.

The Bears drafted him as an athlete on the third round of the 1976 draft. He didn't make it through training camp as a cornerback. He was switched to wide receiver, and in six NFL seasons he has caught 111 passes — he's No. 17 on the Bears' all-time list of receivers — for 1,707 yards. He also has returned 86 kickoffs for 2,066 (24 per return) and one touchdown, six punts for 58 yards, has held on field goals and extra points and done just everything three Bears coaches have asked of him. Need another statistic? Last year Baschnagel had nine unassisted tackles and eight assists on special teams.

"I enjoy doing a number of different things for two reasons," Baschnagel said with a laugh. "First of all — let's face it, the more you can do, the more you're willing to do, the more opportunities there are to contribute."

"I enjoy doing it. I enjoy being a contributor in whatever way I can. I enjoy covering punts, making the tackle on the punt team. I enjoy making a good block. I enjoy holding for extra points and field goals because it's challenging."

"I know that during the game I've got to keep my head in the game, whether the defense is out there or the offense or the punt team or the kickoff team. Whatever team is out there, I've got to have my head in the game because I never know when my name's gonna be called."

Obviously, the Bears aren't dealing with a mental midlife here. Baschnagel was a two-time academic All-America in college. He was a Rhodes Scholar candidate and is working on a post-graduate degree in accounting at Ohio State, hoping someday to become an accountant.

But can't a football player or a player who is a utility player, much like a baseball player can pick up the reputation as a utility infielder or short reliever? "I don't think so," Baschnagel said, again laughing. "I think if anything it'd work the other way around."

"I think a player that's a wide receiver — and a darn good wide receiver — may hesitate to play on some of the special teams in case he possibly could get hurt. They are physical teams. It's kind of a — I don't know what the proper word is — bonai, that's a good word. It's a bonai situation."

Above all else, though, Baschnagel is and probably a starting wide receiver on a team in transition. The Bears need to get their offense into the 20th century. They will have to throw the ball with more than 45.4 percent accuracy.

"I've never worried about catching the football," Baschnagel said, "and yet I think about my pass routes. I think the most important thing on the football field, for anybody — and I don't know if they look at it this way the same way I do not — is to not make a mental mistake."

"I think the toughest thing is to try and eliminate as many mental mistakes as you possibly can, and if you have to make a mental mistake, just drop it and worry about it when the game is over. Don't worry about it because you've got 45 more plays to run."

In the new Bears' scheme, Baschnagel finds more variety in his life.

Schools convinced — budget must be cut

By BILL WINTER of the Press-Record
The discussion of the 1982-83 tentative budget by the Granite City Board of Education at 7 p.m. Sept. 14 and it could be a long, detailed and difficult review.
Revision of the annual school budget, has usually meant an increase between the time of the tentative approval and final action a month later. The board in various allocations have reflected the impact of new employee salary and benefit agreements.
This year, with the second half of two-year employee pacts already taken into account, the revision of the tentative to final are likely to be downward.

School officials were jolted Aug. 24 when they learned they are not only borrowing the limit of $5,967,000 against their current levies but also will have to increase up to $1,700,000 in second-year tax anticipation warrants, a total of $7,667,000 in loans. The immensity of these figures is believed to have convinced board members and administrators that spending must be cut back in some fashion—soon, and perhaps to a drastic degree.
The district already is locked into commitments for most employee, supply and utility costs. But, despite this, a serious effort will be made to trim parts of the $29,924,019 appropriation before it is adopted Sept. 28.
And an even sharper scalpel seems likely to be wielded at the end of the current school year, affecting the 1983-84 instructional program.

Public hearings will be held Sept. 7 on proposed new school tax levies and Sept. 28 on the budget.

Any significant changes in financial planning for the July 1982-June 1983 fiscal year are likely to stem from the board's Sept. 14 budget study. The $3-4 outlook then will be explored in detail during the fall months.
In its tentative form, the big financial document okayed tentatively last week provides $25,590,424 for the education fund, $21,821,203 more than the $23,182,203 actually spent in 1981-82.

It lists $1,975,500 for the building fund, which fully titled the operations, building and maintenance fund. With $1,484,727 spent in the year just ended, the fund would be a rise of $480,473.
Pupil transportation is budgeted at $1,306,400, up $113,808 from the $1,192,592 expenditures in 1981-82.
And the municipal retirement fund's tentative appropriation is $71,986, $64,620 from the $64,735 spent last year.

The $29,924,019 total is $3,412,122 more than the past year's expenditures of $26,511,897, which compared with $25,622,272 actually spent in 1980-81.

In September 1981, the school district projected borrowing of $3 million to $3.5 million in financing a $27,739,266 budget for 1981-82 that was up $1,717,060 from the 1980-81 budget of $26,022,206; the '80-81 budget figure had represented a rise of $1,744,034 above the 1979-80 budget of $24,278,172.

A breakdown of the new tentative budget of $29,924,019 shows that $17,468,559 or 58.38 percent is for instructional costs ($12,054,815 regular programs, $2,140,287 special programs, $1,939,205 vocational programs, $1,289,947 interscholastic and $44,305 summer school).
A total of $11,828,810 or 39.53 percent is for support services ($1,284,067 pupils, $502,678 instructional staff, $434,980 general administration, $1,548,690 school administration, $7,601,310 business and $25,085 central).

The remainder of the new expense budget covers: community services, $8,880 or .03 percent; non-program charges, $117,770 or .39 percent; debt interest, $172,000 or .57 percent; and contingencies, $430,000 or 1.44 percent of the tentative budget.
With $8,238,480 levied in real estate taxes in the 1981 District Nine tax levy for 1982 collection, a total of $8,239,384 was extended.
The proposed 1982 levy for collection in 1983 is $9,372,375.

The latter amount includes:

—$6,851,500 for education, plus $251,443 for tort immunity.
—$1,023,750 for building, plus $136,500 life safety (building improvements).
—$35,080 for municipal retirement (employee pensions).

—$227,600 for transportation.
—And $136,500 for working cash.

With assessed valuation of real estate in the school district expected to rise from $243,768,708 for the 1981 tax year to $273 million for the 1982 tax year, administrators expect the $3.38 actual 1981 tax rate on each $100 valuation to rise 5.3 cents to $3.43 for the 1982 tax year (1983 collection).
This rate would consist of $2.55 for education, up 3.4 cents; 37.5 cents for the building fund, up .57 cent; 19.6 cents for municipal retirement, up .3 cent; 12 cents for transportation, up .18 cent; 9.2 cents for tort immunity, up .17 cent; and .05 percent for life safety and working cash, each up .07 cent.

The tentative budget also lists the receipt of $2,928,822 (potential) or $2,581,301 (estimated) corporate income taxes replacing the 1981-82 personal property taxes.

For 1981-82, the replacement taxes totaled $2,665,444.
On cash accounting basis, anticipated 1982-83 revenue is composed of $11,650,637 or 48.6 percent local, $10,850,970 or 36.3 percent state and $1,490,300 or 6.2 percent federal for a total of $23,991,907.

On an accrual basis, revenue is projected at $12,672,778 or 51.7 percent local, $10,656,337 or 43.4 percent state and $1,202,300 or 4.9 percent federal, an aggregate of $24,531,615.

AWARD WITHDRAWAL FROM LEBANON

Marine Staff Sgt. William A. Goode Jr., son of Esther G. Tucker, 1205 Delmar Ave., is currently serving with the 32nd Marine Amphibious Unit (MAU) off the coast of Beirut, Lebanon. He is a member of Battalion Landing Team 2-8, Camp Lejeune, N.C.

The 800-man U.S. Marine element of the Multinational Force in Beirut was drawn from troops assigned to the 32nd MAU. The Marines are expected to remain in Lebanon for no more than 30 days to assist the Lebanese Armed Forces in ensuring the safe and orderly departure of the Palestine Liberation Organization (PLO).

The 32nd MAU, embarked on the five amphibious ships from the U.S. Sixth Fleet, has been on duty in the Mediterranean Sea since May.
Goode joined the Marine Corps in December 1973.

TAKE NARCOTIC FROM NURSING HOME

An inventory was being taken earlier this week at Colonel Haven Nursing Home, 3900 Stearns Ave., to determine if any medications are missing, following an incident at 6:50 p.m. Monday when a woman allegedly stole a bottle of a controlled substance (Xanax).

A nurse told officers the woman came into the nursing facility, said she needed a pain killer and was told none was available.
While the nurse was getting some medication for a patient, the woman allegedly took a bottle, containing 28½ cc of Demerol, and placed it inside her dress. She ran when confronted by the nurse.

Two employees attempted to catch the woman in the hallway, but she fled the building, they told police. A normal injection of the narcotic is 1½ cc, it was noted.

TAKE JACK, TOOLS

A floor jack, worth $350, and a red tool box containing assorted tools were stolen from the bed of a pickup truck, parked at the rear of the Charles Sanders home, 2418 Logan Ave., he reported this week.

Ceremonies at new SIU law building

U.S. Supreme Court Justice Harry A. Blackmun and Gov. James R. Thompson will be among the guests when Southern Illinois University at Carbondale dedicates its new School of Law building to founder Hiram H. Lessor during the school's Dedication Week Sept. 13-18.

Blackmun will deliver the keynote address at a 9:30 a.m. dedication ceremony on the law school's west lawn Saturday, Sept. 18.

Thompson, who signed legislation in August 1978 appropriating $7.5 million for construction of the law building, will deliver follow-up remarks.

About 800 professionals, teachers and students are expected to attend. School of Law Dean Dan Hopson said.

The new facility will permit expansion of the law school from 250 to 400 students.
Events scheduled during Dedication Week include a talk by CBS News law correspondent Fred Graham Friday, Sept. 17. Graham will speak at a media-luncheon in SIUC's Student Center Ballroom D.

The luncheon is being held in conjunction with an all-day seminar focusing on such topics as media coverage of celebrated trials, pre-trial motions affecting news media, and the issue of cameras in the courtroom.

Sponsored by the Fair Trial-Free Press Committee of the Illinois State Bar Association, the seminar will run from 10:45 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.

The School of Law American Bar Association moot court team will argue before a panel of federal judges Sept. 17 at 9 a.m. at the law school courtroom. Judge James L. Foreman, chief judge of the Southern District of Illinois, will preside.

At the dedication banquet Sept. 17 at 7:15 p.m. at the Student Center Ballroom, keynote speaker will be John C. Feirich of Carbondale, president of the Illinois State Bar Association.

An open reception is planned on the east lawn of the University House on Sept. 18 at 11 a.m., hosted by SIUC President Albert J. Sime. In case of rain, the reception will be held at the Student Center.

Tours of the Hiram H. Lessor Law Building will be conducted Friday, Sept. 17, at 10 a.m. and 2 p.m. and Saturday, Sept. 18, at 10 a.m. and 2 p.m.

The dedication ceremony the next day.

Party tomorrow for Hartigan

Neil F. Hartigan, Democratic candidate for Illinois attorney general, will be honored at a major fund-raising party Friday, Sept. 3, in Collinsville.

The party for Hartigan, former Illinois lieutenant governor, will be held at the Electricians' Hall, Route 157 (just south of Interstate 70), from 6:30 to 9 p.m.
The fund-raising party, which is expected to attract several hundred persons who are supporting Hartigan's campaign, is being jointly sponsored by leading Democrats in Madison and St. Clair Counties.

CRISTY LANE SHOW TONIGHT

One of Nashville's top female artists, Cristy Lane, has been signed to appear at the 1982 DuQuoin State Fair tonight.

The show also will co-feature Cheryl Prewitt Blackwood and Andrus, Blackwood and Company.
Cristy Lane is probably best known for her single "One Day At A Time" which is already one of the all-time great singles in the album.

While Cheryl Prewitt Blackwood first gained fame as 1980's Miss America.

With performance at 6:30 and 9 p.m., reserved tickets are $7.
Several items taken in a recent burglary at the home of Ray Rose, 2531 E. Lynch Ave., were found Monday at the rear of a garage in the 2500 block of Lynch Avenue and returned to the owner.

ACT testing starts next month

With the new school year now under way, more than one million high school juniors and seniors across the nation are preparing to participate in the ACT Assessment Program.

The ACT Assessment, which consists of four academic tests that measure educational development and a detailed questionnaire that collects information relevant to educational and career planning, is recommended or required by more than 2,700 post-secondary institutions and scholarship programs. Most local colleges require ACT scores for admission.

School guidance counselors recommend that students participate in the ACT Assignment Program during the junior year or early in the senior year, so their results will be available in time for use in planning for college education and careers.

Students may obtain registration packets that contain all the information necessary to register and prepare for the assessment from their high school guidance offices. The basic registration fee for the assessment is $9.50. For 1982-83, ACT has established this test date schedule, with the registration deadline in parentheses: Oct. 30, 1982, (Oct. 1); Dec. 11, 1982, (Nov. 12); Feb. 12, 1983, (Jan. 14); April 16, 1983, (March 18); June 11, 1983, (May 13).

It takes about three hours to complete the four ACT examinations in English, math, social studies, and natural sciences. A sample copy of a full-length test is available in every high school. Students who would like to have copies of additional tests may obtain them at cost from ACT.

The ACT Assessment also includes a two-part questionnaire that students complete at home when they register. The questionnaire focuses on the student's interests, academic and nonacademic accomplishments and vocational and educational plans and needs. Colleges use information from the ACT Assessment Program for academic advising, admissions counseling, course selection and placement, student services and institutional research. ACT Assessment reports are sent to students, their high school counselors and only those institutions and agencies specifically designated by the student.

The ACT Assessment Program is a major service of The American College Testing Program, which has national headquarters in Iowa City, Iowa.

"LET'S HEAR IT!" FOR U.S.

THIS CANADIAN THINKS IT IS TIME TO SPEAK UP FOR THE AMERICANS AS THE MOST GENEROUS AND POSSIBLY THE LEAST APPRECIATED PEOPLE ON ALL THE EARTH. GERMANY, JAPAN AND, TO A LESSER EXTENT, BRITAIN AND ITALY WERE LIFTED OUT OF THE DEBRIS OF WAR BY THE AMERICANS WHO POURED IN BILLIONS OF DOLLARS AND FORGAVE OTHER BILLIONS IN DEBTS. NONE OF THESE COUNTRIES IS TODAY PAYING EVEN THE INTEREST ON ITS REMAINING DEBTS TO THE UNITED STATES. WHEN THE FRANC WAS IN DANGER OF COLLAPSING IN 1956, IT WAS THE AMERICANS WHO PROPPED IT UP, AND THEIR REWARD WAS TO BE INSULTED AND SWINDLED ON THE STREETS OF PARIS. I WAS THERE. I SAW IT.

WHEN DISTANT CITIES ARE HIT BY EARTHQUAKES, IT IS THE UNITED STATES THAT HURRIES IN TO HELP. . . THIS SPRING, 59 AMERICAN COMMUNITIES (WERE) FLATTENED BY TORNADOES. NOBODY HELPED. THE MARSHALL PLAN AND THE TRUMAN POLICY PUMPED BILLIONS UPON BILLIONS OF DOLLARS INTO DISCOURAGED COUNTRIES. NOW NEWSPAPERS IN THOSE COUNTRIES ARE WRITING ABOUT THE DECADENT, WARMONGERING AMERICANS.

I'D LIKE TO SEE JUST ONE OF THOSE COUNTRIES THAT IS GLOATING OVER THE EROSION OF THE UNITED STATES DOLLAR BUILD ITS OWN AIRPLANES. COME ON, LET'S HEAR IT! DOES ANY OTHER COUNTRY IN THE WORLD HAVE A PLANE TO EQUAL THE BOEING JUMBO JET, THE LOCKHEED TRISTAR OR THE DOUGLAS 10? IF SO, WHY DON'T THEY FLY THEM? WHY DO ALL THE INTERNATIONAL LINES EXCEPT RUSSIA FLY AMERICAN PLANES? WHY DOES NO OTHER LAND ON EARTH EVEN CONSIDER PUTTING A MAN OR WOMAN ON THE MOON?

YOU TALK ABOUT AMERICAN TECHNOLOGY, AND YOU FIND MEN ON THE MOON — NOT ONCE BUT SEVERAL TIMES — AND SAFELY HOME AGAIN. YOU TALK ABOUT SCANDALS, AND THE AMERICANS PUT THEIR RIGHT IN THE STORE WINDOW FOR EVERYBODY TO LOOK AT. EVEN THEIR DRAFT-DODGERS ARE NOT PURSUED AND HOUNDED — THEY ARE HERE ON OUR STREETS, AND MOST OF THEM, ARE GETTING AMERICAN DOLLARS FROM MOM AND PA AT HOME, TO SPEND HERE. . .

WHEN THE RAILWAYS OF FRANCE, GERMANY AND INDIA WERE BREAKING DOWN THROUGH AGE, IT WAS THE AMERICANS WHO REBUILT THEM. WHEN THE PENNSYLVANIA RAILROAD AND THE NEW YORK CENTRAL WENT BROKE, NOBODY LOANED THEM AN OLD CABOOSE. BOTH ARE STILL BROKE.

I CAN NAME YOU 5,000 TIMES WHEN THE AMERICANS RACED TO THE HELP OF OTHER PEOPLE IN TROUBLE. CAN YOU NAME ME EVEN ONE TIME WHEN SOMEONE ELSE RACED TO THE AMERICANS IN TROUBLE? OUR NEIGHBORS HAVE FACED IT ALONE, AND I'M ONE CANADIAN WHO IS DARNED TIRED OF HEARING THEM KICKED AROUND. THEY WILL COME OUT OF THIS THING WITH THEIR FLAG HIGH. AND WHEN THEY DO, THEY'RE ENTITLED TO THUMB THEIR NOSE AT THE LANDS THAT ARE GLOATING OVER THEIR PRESENT TROUBLES. I HOPE CANADA IS NOT ONE OF THESE.

Cards of Thanks 31

THE FAMILY OF CLARA L. NOLAN expresses sincere gratitude to Bob Thomas Memorial Mortuary, our many friends and relatives for their comfort, floral offerings, food donations and expressions of sympathy at the recent loss of our beloved mother, grandmother and great-grandmother. 31 9 2

WE WISH to extend our heartfelt thanks to our many friends for their prayers, floral offerings and deep concern during the illness and death of our father. A special thanks to Bob Thomas and the Thomas Mortuary, Granite City, and the Crain Funeral Home of Anna, IL. The Family of OLIN HENRY CRIPPLEN. 31 9 2

Memorials 32

IN LOVING memory of JOSEPH YOBBY, Sept. 5, 1876. His smiling face and pleasant voice are a pleasure to recall, he had a kindly word for each and died beloved by all. Some day we hope to meet him, some day, we know not when, to clasp his hand in the better land, never to part again. Sadly missed by Wife, Sons, Daughters, Grandchildren, Relatives and Friends. 32 9 2

IN LOVING memory of ELIZABETH JEAN BERN, Sept. 5, 1971. This Sunday 11 years to the day our dear little daughter left us to be with her Saviour. Lovingly missed, Mother and Dad and all those who loved her. 32 9 2

IN LOVING memory of MARGARET G. HARGROVE, Sept. 4, 1984. Sadly missed by Dickie, Judy and Children. 32 9 2

Polyurethane core

A polyurethane core between galvanized steel surfaces provides outstanding insulation.

Thermal break

Pre-mortised edge prevents contact between outside and inside metal surfaces. Eliminates frost and condensation.

Easy to paint

Paint your door any color you choose. Woodgrain or antique finish may also be applied.

Patented, adjustable security strike plate

Steel strike plate wraps around wood jamb. Spreads impact force over a wider area, for more security. Adjustability factor provides a tighter seal.

Maintenance free construction

Resists warping, cracking and sticking. Retains its beauty year after year.

Arctic Magnetic weatherstripping

Seals like a refrigerator door to significantly reduce heat loss and air infiltration. Remains flexible in low temperatures and provides greater holding power than any other weatherstrip on the market today.
